A CIRQUE REVOLUTION

THE BEATLES: LOVE NOW OPEN AT THE MIRAGE

By Jon Afalla

I am not a Beatles fan. I definitely did not grow up in the '60s nor did I make an effort to appreciate their music posthumously. I know two, possibly three, of their songs (and only because they were popularized in contemporary film or television). I am ignorant on all things Beatles.

That being said, I went into opening night of The Beatles: Love—the new Cirque du Soleil homage to the original British boy band—almost completely unaware of their body of work. Perhaps I would have enjoyed the show more if I were more familiar with The Beatles' music. Perhaps I could have interpreted more of the theatrical effects of the show if I had grown up during the height of their popularity. Who's to say?

The show started off with some retro dancing and mesmerizing lighting effects and aerialist acts. Shadows of The Beatles were cascaded across big screens across the panoramic theater. A popular Beatles song filtered through speakers all around the audience. Everything seemed magical and very promising. But after five minutes into the opening number, the unexpected happened—an alarm sounded throughout The Mirage Theater, halting the show for nearly 15 minutes.

During the alarm investigation, the most humorous part of the show ensued. The audience, for a brief period, transformed the bewildered theater into a synchronized baseball audience. Yes. While we waited for the show to restart, we did the wave. After the novelty of waving wore off, the chanting began. Love! Love! Love! Soon enough, the show went on, picking up right where it left off.

The rest of the 90-minute, Beatles music-enhanced show was captivating. Obvious fans lit up with every song, while I only recognized one ("Revolution"). I felt like a fraud. The opening numbers—revolving around the destruction of England during the Vietnam War—was visually stunning. The stage was literally transformed into a once-happy haven into a rubble-ridden stage lingering with death and despair—an antithesis to the happy and inspiring music of the popular '60s breakout band.

Another scene that stood out was an underwater tribute in which the actors created the illusion of octopi, jellyfish and other aquatic dwellers with lit-up umbrellas and fluid choreography. Coupled with the music of The Beatles, the number was awe-inspiring.

The rest of the numbers were littered with cool acrobatic displays, signature to any big Cirque extravaganza. The aerials in this show, however, weren't over-the-top or as epic as, say, KA or Zumanity. There weren't any pyrotechnics or water displays (although they would have really been out of place in a musical tribute to The Beatles). Also, a roller-skate exhibition and net aerials inspired a lot of "oohs" and "aahs."

Costumes were a visual reminder of days gone past but weren't overly breathtaking. Stage settings, I felt, were far more sophisticated.

Overall, The Beatles: Love may require a love and appreciation for The Beatles in order for one to fully enjoy the show. As for me, a virtual Beatles virgin, I was satisfied with the performance. I even bought their anthology.

The Beatles: Love is now playing at The Mirage. For show times and ticketing information visit www.cirquedusoleil.com/love or www.mirage.com/entertainment. Tickets may also be purchased at The Mirage box office. ▼

A Stoic Sense of Direction

I wouldn't recommend spending a few days on the set of a gay porn movie shoot unless you're also ready to spend a few bucks on some serious therapy. It's a good thing I'm already a bit nutty, because my recent experience has turned me into a catatonic, drooling hormone; an emotional and physical sex-obsessed wreck that needs to either get laid immediately or simply put out to pasture, if not my own misery.

I just returned from San Diego, Calif., where I hung out with the boys from EON Films as they were working on their soon-to-be-released flick called The Dicks of Hazzard. I helped them out with some simple production stuff like holding the boom microphone. I met some really cool people like veteran porn model Marc Sterling, who might be better known by the name Chris Ward. I fondled some pretty impressive genitalia and watched three hot guys screwing on a pool table.

I even cuddled up with cutie Tyler Mason on the porch at sunset.

You would think I'd be frothing at the mouth to write about this, which indeed I am. But I'm saving it for the August issue of QVegas in which I'll give you a blow-by-blow, so to speak, of the all the action, as well as a few pictures that would make my mother disown me were she still kicking.

But for now I must reign in my desires and dish up the dirt on some other stuff new to the market. Talk about holding back. In fact, this could be the literary equivalent of that classic old masturbatory technique known as "edging." The only difference is the edge that I'm on is attached to a cliff.

I don't think I've ever had a bad thing to say about Bel Ami Studios, primarily because to do so would be a fib of the highest order. The latest concoction from this Eastern European powerhouse is a flick called Pillow Talk 1, a collection of five beautifully shot scenes that are strung together with a kinda-sorta romantic thread. I cite ambiguity only out of an honest recognition that there really is no other binding continuity such as scene set-ups or dialogue, but you know what? That's okay.

"What," you ask, "is this idiot talking about? All he ever does is whine about a lack of plot and context. He must be smoking crack."

While my crack is anything but smoking, it still provides an opening for warm, superfluous air, which is an acceptable way of saying I haven't really provided any useful information in this column for over eight years. It is also a colorful (if not odiferous) way of telling you I'm not completely nuts, and that there is no gay pornographic production company on the face of this oddly fascinating planet debuted in Personal Trainers 4. Josh looks younger now than he did then, which is a direct slap in the face of an old fart who is rapidly approaching senility. It is yet a comfort in that I still have something to fantasize about other than strained prunes.

Josh does two scenes: one in which he tops and the other in which he bottoms. In gay land this is known as being versatile. In reality it is known as being a slut, but if Josh is also blind at least I might stand a chance of relieving my obvious frustration. Another dude that's of significant interest is Brandon Manilow, a pretty young thing who is as gay as the other guy with whom he shares a surname, just not quite as Jewish.

George DuRoy still runs this ship out of Bratislava, Slovakia. In keeping with his traditionally high standards, Pillow Talk 1 features the same sterling production values as everything else he's filmed, including rich colors, superb lighting, explicit camera angles and frisky sex. Porn can't get any better. It just plain can't.

It can, however, get worse. Perfect example: Bareback Dream Boys by Poison Point Productions. While I admittedly don't know much about these guys, this particular effort clocks in at a ho-hum happy medium, if that. It really isn't due to the models or the mechanics or the monologue so much as it is an absence of magic.

In other words, that intangible "something" that makes art art.

I have a tough time believing that the boys are hot for one another. Of course, we see the obligatory gropes and ravenous displays of desire, but there is no hint of authenticity or passion involved. And what kind of sex is that, other than the kind I'm used to?

If anything, the models over-act, which is an odd departure. Usually boredom sets in because they lie there like a dead fish, but in this case it's because their horniness is exaggerated. Go figure. Incidental to all this is an audio track that makes the excessively heavy breathing sound like Darth Vader in an empty dumpster.

The guys seem to be Euro, yet Poison Point is out of Tennessee. That kind of "Huh?" can only be expected from a movie that has all the stoic sense of direction of Stevie Wonder after eight shots and a 12-pack.

Kind of like the conclusion to this article. ▼

that has ever rivaled Bel Ami.

Charter members such as Lukas Ridgeston, Dano Sulik and Johan Paulik are gone. The only name that sticks in my obviously diminished memory is Josh Elliot, who was a newcomer perhaps five years ago when he

Monday Morning PART I

DOO-do-do-do-do-DO-do-DO ... The obnoxious ring tone wakes me up. I glance at the clock on my nightstand: 8:15 a.m. Who the hell calls me at 8:15 a.m.? Obviously no one I know. I pick up my phone, silence it and look at the caller ID: 405 area code. Must be a telemarketer. He leaves no message.

Getting ready for work, I remember that my cousin's area code is 405, and he lives in Oklahoma. It might've been him, but he usually leaves a voicemail. Moreover, I realize, if it had been my cousin calling the display would've read "Dan" instead of the number since I have him saved in my address book. I'm not too concerned, so I shrug it off and head for the office.

Two hours later my phone rings again, alerting the whole hive of cubicles. DOO-do-do-do-do-DO-do-DO ... My cellmate Trina shoots me a glance. "Yes," I want to say, "I am that cool that I need the whole office to know I have a social life." It's not me she's mad at. The woman on the other side of our wall is almost never there to answer her phone, which explodes thrice daily into the extended theme from The Pink Panther.

It's the 405 number again, and this time I'm going to answer it. I silence the ringer and make for the outer balcony, the only part of the office semi-private enough to hold a personal conversation. "Hello?"

"Homer?" His voice is mildly familiar. "It's Evan. I met you on Thursday night?"

Evan and I spent Thursday night having repeated drunken sex in his hotel room, and now he thinks I might not remember him. "Hey, Evan! How are you?"

"I'm okay," he replies simply. "I'm okay."

This is bad. For starters, Evan doesn't live in Las Vegas, and we shared what I understood to be a one-night encounter, your standard hotel/vacation sex, a relationship that usually ends when you leave the gentleman's room but sometimes lasts as long as it takes for him to get home. Either way, the expiration had passed. Secondly, when someone says "I'm okay" during meaningless pleasantries, it generally means mayday.

"How are you?" His voice is forced.

"Oh, I'm good," I start, then adlib with some boring details from my weekend, pretending I'm not getting more and more worried over why he might be calling.

"That's cool, that's cool," he echoes, then, "Is it possible to have gotten an STD from you?"

Yeouch. Exactly what I'd feared. "Um, not that I know of. Why?"

"Well, um, I feel kind of funny and there's some inflammation around my ..."

"Oh." Shit. I think back to Thursday night. It consisted of our having sex exactly three times, in which he was the top, twice using protection, once using nothing because I was a) stupid, b) drunk and c) self-destructive. The third, most risky interlope also lasted the longest, of course, giving any diseases ample time to make a new home in either one of us. "Well I don't have any symptoms," I say honestly. "I feel fine."

I don't tell him that it's been more than six months since my last STD screening, and I certainly don't mention that I probably did a thing or two in there that would warrant a new one. "Did you go to the doctor?"

"No. Listen, I can't talk right now. Can I call you later?"

"Sure," I agree, annoyed. Even people with healthy anxiety levels freak out a little when someone calls them, presents them with a problem they may have caused, and then hustles off the phone. "Can we talk tonight?"

"Yeah," he hurries. "I'll call you later. Goodbye."

I stare at the flashing call time: three minutes and some change. In my five years of slutting around, this is actually the first time someone has presented me with the STD thing. When I consider the territory I've covered, I don't know if I should thank God or alert the editor of Modern Science. Diseases were something I used to fret over steadily, going to the doctor when I had virtually no reason to, but in the end it was always psychosomatic. I felt guilty about having so many one-night stands and told myself I deserved an STD of some kind, even when there wasn't one. I wonder if Evan is going through the same thing.

I certainly hope so, because the reality is I don't know this guy at all, and there are a lot of crazies out there. In my five years of slutting around, I've also managed to avoid any dangerous hangers-on ("hanger-on-ers," if you will), and while they might be rarer than herpes, there are no pills to keep them at bay. I could be in for a doozy.

I walk back to my desk. This is going to be a slow day. ▼

WHY GAYS LOVE THE DEVIL WEARS PRADA

By Jon Afalla

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways.

1 Meryl Streep Plays a High-Riding, Caustic Bitch. For some reason, gay men love watching a woman maul over people with biting sarcasm and overt bitchiness (the driving force behind drag queens). There's something sexy and appealing about a woman with power who isn't nice about it. Anyone who loved Rachel McAdams in Mean Girls or Sarah Michelle Gellar in Cruel Intentions (practically everyone) will love Meryl Streep's performance.

2 Fashion. It's stereotypical, I know, but I couldn't help but drool over all of the beautiful, elegant clothing worn throughout the movie. Chanel. Dior. Prada. Granted they were for women, but it made me want to be Ann Hathaway for a second, prancing around in knee-high leather boots and draped 24-7 in couture. No, I'm not gay. Not at all.

3 Anne Hathaway Goes From Geek to Chic. Every gay loves watching a good makeover, especially if the end result includes Jimmy Choos and a bag from Marc Jacobs. Reinvention and gay culture go together hand in hand. Just ask Madonna. Or any drag queen.

4 Classic One-liners. No bitchy queen is complete without a sassy dialogue. Lines like "That's all" and "Is there some hideous skirt convention you should be attending?" will have you incorporating them into your daily vernacular.

5 Supermodels and Fashion Designers Galore. Gays adore supermodels and fashion designers. Nuff said. ▼

Aunt Betty Turns Up the Heat with Annual Chili Cook-off

By Jon Afalla

Aunt Betty will host her fifth annual chili cook-off at Spotlight Lounge Sunday, July 30. The event will take place from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The Winged Dragon Society will sponsor the cook-off. Money raised from the event will go to local community charities and organizations like Golden Rainbow and St. Therese Center, both of which help people affected and afflicted with HIV/AIDS.

People wishing to enter the cook-off need only bring their chili to the Spotlight Lounge on the day of the event. A panel of judges will taste each chili and score the entry accordingly.

"It's a no-brainer thing," Aunt Betty said. "It's a lot of fun. It's really a good time. Watching the judges taste the chili is the best part."

A beer bust and raffle will take place at the cook-off. Trophies will also be given for best hot, medium and mild chili, worst chili and best cornbread.

Entertainment personalities Tony and Lloyd will help emcee the event. ▼

SHAG WITH A TWIST VIP OPENING

QVegas hosted a VIP opening July 6 for the new late-night music and dance show Shag With a Twist, which has opened at Krave Las Vegas. The evening began with an elaborate reception with endless buffet and complimentary cocktails, followed by the first Las Vegas performance of the show. See the June issue of Out Las Vegas for our full story on this production, or visit www.shagwithatwist.com.

TROY By Michael Derry
#153 'CRUEL AND UNUSUAL'

C'MON RAY! YOU DON'T ACTUALLY THINK YOU CAN FORCE ME TO GET HIM TESTED! YOU SHOULD KNOW ME BETTER THAN THAT!

ACTUALLY, I DO KNOW YOU, RIGO. BETTER THAN YOU MIGHT THINK! TROY?

NO RAY! WE CAN'T! IT'S TOO...! THIS IS JUST WRONG, RAY!

WE'RE OUT OF TIME AND OPTIONS, TROY, AND YOU KNOW IT! NOW DO IT!!!

NO! MUJA! YOU CAN'T DO THIS TO ME! PLEASE! TROY! NO! MUJA! RAY! YOU GUYS! PLEASE!! NOOOOOOOO!!!!

AAAAHHHHHHH HA HA HA HA HA NO! STOP IT! HA HA HA HA! I'M SERIOUS YOU GU... HAHAHA-
HAHAHAHAHAHA! I SWEAR I'M GONNA KILL... HAHAHA-
HAHAHAHAHA! NO! NO! STOP! STOOOP! HAHAHAHA-
HAHA! OK! I SAID OK ALREADY! I'LL GO TAKE THE GOD DAMN TEST ALL READY JUST... AHA-HAHAHAHA! JUST PLEASE! MAKE IT STOP!!!!

RIGO? RIGO? I'M... I'M SO SORRY BUT WE HAD TO! IT WAS THE ONLY WAY WE COULD GET YOU TO AGREE TO GET... WE DID IT TO HELP YOU! YOU KNOW THAT, DON'T YOU?

IT'S... IT'S OK, I KNOW, MUJA, I KNOW! I JUST... I WANT YOU TO... NO. I NEED YOU TO KNOW WHEN THIS TEST? THIS WHOLE THING IS... IS OVER...?

YEA, RIGO?

TROY By Michael Derry
#154 'A MOMENT OF TRUTH'

RIGO, I CAN'T TELL YOU HOW GLAD I AM THAT YOU FINALLY AGREED TO GET TESTED! YOU REALLY HAVE NO IDEA! I JUST... I AM SO PROUD OF YOU.

SAVE IT FOR AFTERWARD, MUJA. YOU MAY NEED YOUR STRENGTH TO SCRAPE ME UP OFF THE FLOOR AFTER I GET THE BAD NEWS!

RIGO! DAMN YOU! MAKIN' ME CRY, OF COURSE I'M HERE FOR YOU! BUT... C'MON, IT'S KIND OF A BIG DEAL. ARE YOU SURE HE DOESN'T MIND ME BEING THERE INSTEAD OF HIM?

YOU'LL BE FINE! AND... WELL... YOU JUST WILL BE! BUT, I MEAN, I'M HONORED YOU WANT ME THERE, BUT WHAT ABOUT JORGE? DOESN'T HE WANT TO BE THERE?

OH YEA, HE DOES, BUT I DON'T WANT HIM THERE. IF I DO END UP BEING, YOU KNOW, I JUST... I DON'T THINK I COULD FACE HIM. NOT LIKE, RIGHT AWAY, AND YOU... LOOK, I KNOW I'M ALWAYS GIVING YOU SHIT BUT, YOU'VE ALWAYS BEEN THERE FOR ME AND... WELL, I NEED YOU.

TROY! I JUST CAN'T TELL YOU HOW MUCH I APPRECIATE YOU TAKING MY PLACE TODAY. IT JUST MEANS SO MUCH! OH! YOU KNOW, I HATE TO FURTHER IMPOSE ON YOU AFTER WHAT YOU'VE ALREADY DONE, BUT DO YOU THINK MAYBE YOU COULD HELP? ME GET THIS KNIFE OUT OF MY BACK? YOU REMEMBER, IT'S RIGHT BETWEEN MY SHOULDER BLADES? I JUST... I JUST CAN'T REACH IT!

YEA, HE'S COOL.

YOU TOO, I SEE. CAN'T STOP RASPBERRYING MADEIRA FOR ONE EVENING?

RAF, YOUR MOM'S ARE KINDA STRESSED OUT. MAYBE YOU SHOULD GIVE THEM A HAND.

OKAY.

ABIGAIL, I HAFTA GO. I'LL SEE YOU AT THE MALL LATER.

YOU'RE NOT SEEING ANYBODY AT THE MALL LATER, WE HAVE DINNER GUESTS.

I HAVE TO SEE HER! SHE'S GOING AWAY TO HER DAD'S FOR THE REST OF THE SUMMER!

CLARICE, DON'T BE RIDICULOUS. OF COURSE HE CAN GO.

NO ONE LISTENS TO ME. I DON'T KNOW WHAT I'M EVEN DOING HERE.

I WISH YOU GUYS WOULD GET DIVORCED. THEN I COULD BE NORMAL.

I JUST HOPE THAT BOUT'S IN REMISSION.

Treasure Island Media is more a cult than a film studio.
-Mark Adams, Vidioview.com

Wow...ok, so I was at a friend's house over the weekend and we were watchin the Plantin Seed 2 video. I've never been so turned on before. I mean, the entire video is hot. Every scene literally had my [redacted] throbbing. The reason for this email though has to be that last scene between Jason Summers and Johnny Farrell. Johnny probably has the best ass I've ever seen in porn. It's like it was made for [redacted] I wanted to dive in the tv screen and [redacted] out myself. The whole scene is a challenge to slutty bottoms everywhere. He obviously enjoyed that Jason's [redacted] and he took that [redacted] like a champion (and what a [redacted] it was...damn) He made me want to [redacted] that ass, and for that I have to say great job to you. I mean, porn is porn, but for me to decide to send an email about a porn I saw 4 days ago that's still fresh in my memory means it was [redacted] hot. Thanks...and uh, when do I get to see more of Johnny's ass?

Cancer

(June 22-July 22)

Planetary vibes are simple and low key most of this month. July 19 is best for making sales pitches. The 25th finds you bouncing all over town. Watch what promises you make Aug. 1. Finances strengthen nicely on the 5th. Wait til the 12th to start house hunting for the best deal.

Leo

(July 23-August 22)

Consult with a financial planner July 21. The workplace will prove very nerve wracking on the 28th. A spending spree Aug. 3 brightens your spirits. A bit of diplomacy will work wonders on the 8th. You'll be hard to resist on the 10th and 11th. Avoid double dating on the 14th.

Virgo

(August 23-September 22)

July 17 finds you on an artistic/creative high. New moon on the 24th will heighten your urge to settle down. A so-called friend shows their true colors on the 30th. There's much to celebrate about Aug. 5. It'd be wise to start putting aside more cash each week on the 13th.

Libra

(September 23-October 22)

You may feel physically drained July 19. Your services and charm will be in great demand on the 27th. A passionate encounter Aug. 4 is just that and no more. It's best to lie low and recharge on the 10th. Be willing to help a heartsick friend out on the 14th.

Scorpio

(October 23-November 21)

Emotions run high July 15. Your natural brilliance shines beautifully on the 20th. New moon on the 24th provides romantic temptation. Incoming cash flow increases Aug. 2. You'll be sinfully seductive on the 7th. Avoid difficult/temperamental people on the 12th and 13th.

Sagittarius

(November 22-December 21)

People are drawn to you by nature. Rarely more than on July 18. A new buddy makes life more joyful. Keep that biting humor in check on the 29th. Financial aspects for the month are great, especially Aug. 4. Your charm helps diffuse a tense situation on the 14th.

Capricorn

(December 22-January 19)

People applaud your leadership abilities July 20. Your knack for schmoozing pays off nicely on the 25th. Offer a confused sibling guidance Aug. 3. Full moon on the 9th brings out your party animal side. Weekend from the 11th-14th works like a magic spell.

Aquarius

(January 20-February 18)

Extra cash should be spent on some new clothes. You can be like a pied piper July 22. Don't settle for merely good on the 28th, when great is possible. Old ambitions are reignited in early August. The 8th is strongest for calling in favors. Keep to yourself on the 10th.

Pisces

(February 19-March 19)

Work-related activities keep you hustling from July 15-21. You get to play matchmaker on the 26th. Don't let a difficult career choice scare you on the 30th. Few people will agree with you on the 7th. Don't take it personally. Lunar aspects on the 10th charge up your love life.

Aries

(March 20-April 19)

Hurrying July 16 will make you accident-prone. You get to broker a peace agreement on the 23rd. That new entertainment system makes you ecstatic Aug. 4. Physical vitality soars on the 9th. Don't force feed your opinions on the 11th, as it will backfire at some point.

Taurus

(April 20-May 20)

Career aspects look steady and assured. Don't brag too much over a financial coup July 20. Your gift of gab saves the day on the 27th. Make time for a troubled relative Aug. 3. A partner's unusual ideas on the 10th might actually have some validity down the road.

Gemini

(May 21-June 21)

Taking the high road ultimately works out best July 17. A career high made on the 22nd is just a preview of things to come. Look your absolute best on the 31st. Quite a few romantic loose ends can be tied up by Aug. 7. Don't let a jealous rival spoil the day on the 13th.

POULTRY GONE GAY

QUEER DUCK: THE MOVIE FLIES INTO HOMES ON DVD

By Jon Afalla

A cult smash since its days as a short on icebox.com (1999), Queer Duck continues his saga in Queer Duck: The Movie, busting out of the closet and onto DVD July 18.

The outrageous animated movie from Paramount Home Entertainment and Icebox Productions features Queer Duck, the world's favorite homosexual duck, as he confronts the challenges of modern gay life. Joining him are his boyfriend Openly Gator, the hard-partying leather enthusiast Bi-Polar Bear and Oscar Wildcat, who is never without a martini or his smoking jacket.

Queer Duck, written and created by Mike Reiss, four-time Emmy winner for his work on The Simpsons and creator of The Critic, overflows with irreverent, no-holds-barred comedy and 15 new songs and musical numbers (including the celebratory showstoppers "Gay Day In Happyland," "I'm Glad I'm Gay" and "Let's Play Gay Baseball").

Jim J. Bullock (Too Close For Comfort) voices the Jewish male nurse Queer Duck. Other veteran talents include Kevin Michael Richardson (The Joker from Batman), voicing Openly Gator; Billy West (Fry from Futurama and Stimpny from Ren & Stimpy), voicing Bi-Polar Bear and Maurice La March (Brain from Pinky and the Brain), voicing Oscar Wildcat. The DVD also features guest voices by Tim Curry, Conan O'Brien and David Duchovny.

DVD extras include five animated shorts that helped launch Queer Duck as a gay phenomenon (once voted one of OUT's "Top 100 Personalities") as well as exclusive behind-the-scenes footage of the making of Queer Duck: The Movie. Other features include "Getting the Right Homosexual," "How To Find a Partner If You're Bi. Um Coastal," "Stripping Down Queer Duck" and "The People Behind the Voices."

The DVD release comes complete with a stellar executive production team including Golden Globe winner Howard Gordon (executive producer on Fox's 24), Rob LaZebnick (former co-executive producer of The Simpsons) and John Collier (former co-executive producer of King of the Hill). Rounding out the creative team is head of animation Xeth Feinberg (Cartoon Sushi, Strangers With Candy). ▼
