SPOOKTACULAR EVENTS FOR HALLOWEEN

Halloween in Sin City provides an opportunity for all to dress to their most outrageous, with mouth-watering treats and a trick or two along the way.

The Las Vegas LGBT community will be out in full force on Saturday, October 30 to celebrate Halloween, with three major community events providing something for everyone.

SNAPI'S MONSTER BASH Hamburger Mary's Banquet Hall • 8 p.m.

Southern Nevada Association of Pride, Inc. has joined forces with the 500-member North American Gay Volleyball Association (NAGVA) to present the Halloween party of the season in the banquet hall of Hamburger Mary's.

The evening will include food, drink, music by SNAP! DJ Danny G, and a costume contest with over $1000 in prizes to be given away. Special Occasion Services has donated over $5000 in decorations to transform the banquet hall into a frighteningly good time.

Admission charge: $8.00. For more information, visit www.lasvegaspride.org

NGRA HALLOWEEN PARTY Badlands • 9 p.m.

The Nevada Gay Rodeo Association (NGRA) will be shedding their boots and jeans for pajamas when they host a Halloween 'pajama party' at Badlands Saloon.

The evening starts with a $5 beer bust and live show and will also feature the sashing of contestants competing for the crown of Miss and Mr. NGRA at the upcoming royalty pageant in November.

For more information, visit www.ngra.com

BELLA'S HALLOWEEN GALA Backstreet • 9 p.m.

Presented by the Imperial Royal Sovereign Court of the Desert Empire, Inc. and hosted by Empress III Bella DeBall and Tago LeFemme Chanel, this highly anticipated event is a seasonal favorite of the Las Vegas LGBT community.

The festivities kick-off at 9 p.m. with a beer bust, and then on with the show at 10 p.m. with live entertainment, silent auction, and a costume contest (costumes are requested but not required). There will also be an auction of a king-sized handmade Afghan in pride colors and a bottle of Dom Perignon vintage 1993.

All funds raised by this event will go back to clubs and organizations in the community. For more information, visit www.desertempire.org ▼

DINING WITH THE DIVAS SPARKLES AT RAINBOW LOUNGE

Review By Chris Campbell

There is an old saying that "the best things in life are worth waiting for." It would appear that the Las Vegas LGBT community has discovered just how accurate a saying this really is with the re-launch of Dining With The Divas and the grand opening of Rainbow Lounge in the Commercial Center.

For two long years our community has waited for the return of Dining With The Divas since it was abruptly taken from the Las Vegas scene. Better than the show's reappearance is the fact that Las Vegas finally has a classy cocktail lounge and restaurant where the emphasis is on high standards.

Rainbow Lounge, the creation of Ray Makuch, is quite simply stunning. The transformation that has taken place with this property has to be seen to be believed. Suave ambience together with a sumptuous menu of well-prepared delicacies and more traditional cuisine, makes Rainbow Lounge a place you want to be.

Dining With The Divas brings the combined talents of Raymond Alexander and Rudalska together for a visual feast. Raymond and Ruda are consummate professionals who know how to entertain. Their act, complete with adorable showboys, is original, visually exciting, and highly entertaining. Dining With The Divas is a must-see experience. The great thing about this show is it's originality—you can see it again-and-again and always find something new and entertaining. ▼

COMMUNITY WELCOMES KRAVE

The long-awaited opening of Krave, the first alternative nightclub on the strip, was met with star-studded fanfare and excitement with an invitation-only party for QVegas readers on Friday, October 1, and the official public opening on Saturday, October 2.

The club's debut in Sin city got underway on Friday when Las Vegas Mayor Oscar Goodman issued a proclamation welcoming Krave to the Strip, officially declaring it "Krave Week" in Las Vegas. The mayor emphasized the inclusive atmosphere and location of the club, stating, "This town welcomes everyone!"

Krave is the brainchild of owner Sia Amiri, famed event promoter Jeffrey Sanker, along with producer John Stagliano, who is launching his erotic stage production of The Fashionistas at the club.

Revelers were treated to a bevy of live entertainment, glimmering lights, mind-blowing special effects, seductive eye-candy for all orientations, delectable food, and an atmosphere that raises the standard on clubbing in Las Vegas.

Krave is an idea whose time has finally come! ▼

Cheney Ignorant About HIV/AIDS Crisis

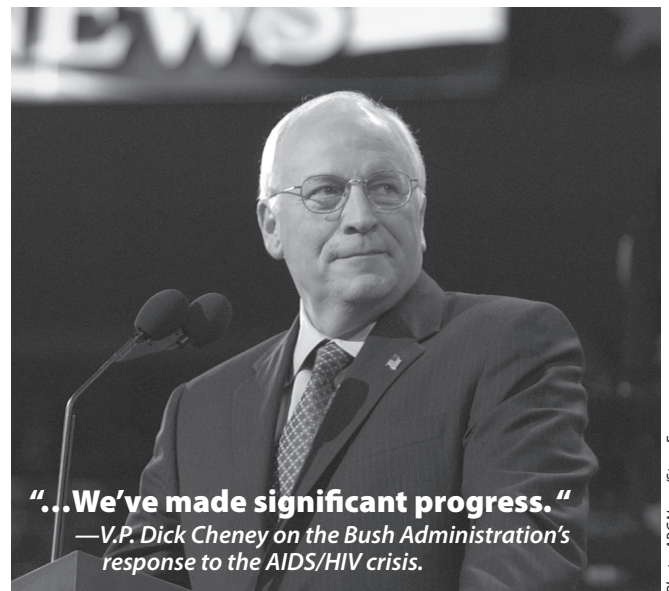

During the Vice Presidential debate on October 5, Dick Cheney displayed a clear lack of understanding on statistics relating to the effect the HIV/AIDS epidemic is still having on Americans—particularly with the African-American community.

Moderator Gwen Ifill from PBS addressed the Vice President, saying, "...I want to talk to you about AIDS, and not about AIDS in China or Africa, but AIDS right here in this country, where black women between the ages of 25 and 44 are 13 times more likely to die of the disease than their counterparts."

Vice President Cheney began his response talking about Africa, but then addressed the crisis in America, answering, "Here in the United States, we've made significant progress. I have not heard those numbers with respect to African-American women. I was not aware that it was—that they're in epidemic there..."

"Vice President Cheney's ignorance about the HIV/AIDS crisis is inexcusable," said Human Rights Campaign President Cheryl Jacques. "When asked about the effect this epidemic is having on Americans—especially communities of color—he said he was unaware of the problem," she said.

"Cheney was just one of 13 House members to vote against the precursor to the Ryan White CARE Act in 1988—the AIDS Federal Policy Act," noted Jacques. "Unlike the Bush Administration, Senator Kerry and Senator Edwards are focused on solving our HIV/AIDS crisis. Both cosponsor the Early Treatment for HIV Act and support full funding for science-based HIV prevention programs and the Ryan White CARE Act." ▼

National Gay and Lesbian Task Force Launches Satirical Voter Education Website

The National Gay and Lesbian Task Force (NGLTF) on September 24 launched a controversial new website aimed at educating voters on the hateful and divisive rhetoric being used by anti-gay forces to incite irrational fears in the American people. The website, www.gaymerica.org illustrates the absurdity of those divisive and false assertions through a satirical and over-the-top view at what America would look like if their assertions were carried to their expected conclusions.

"Gaymerica.org is specifically meant to reach those in the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and allied communities who may not be planning to vote this year," explains Task Force Executive Director Matt Foreman. "Research shows, to catch their attention, we have to cut through all of the Web and e-mail clutter that is out there, do something edgy, controversial and different than our typical 'mainstream' messages—which are often humorless and always very serious."

Gaymerica contains the anti-gay myths and slanders seen and heard everyday on the Internet, in the mainstream media, and even on the floor of the U.S. Congress. For example, Senator Rick Santorum (R-PA) said "if the Supreme Court says that you have the right to consensual sex within your home, then you have the right to bigamy, you have the right to polygamy, you have the right to incest, you have the right to adultery." Taking off on this, the Gaymerica site has a satirical article about the U.S. Senate passing a "Bovine Love Amendment" legalizing bovine/human marriage. The story states that opponents are challenging the law "on the grounds that 'I moo' does not sufficiently express the will of the betrothed." ▼ here can you find a man wearing nothing but a pumpkin, a 7-foot tall robot, or a dress made out of purses? You can find them all at the Beaux Arts Ball—Las Vegas' most outrageous Halloween party.

38th Annual

BEAUX ARTS BALL

THE SEASON'S BIGGEST AND WILDEST PARTY

Known for attracting the best costumes anywhere, the Beaux Arts Ball has a 38-year reputation as the season's biggest and wildest party. This year, the 38th annual Beaux Arts Ball will take place Thursday, October 28 at 10:00 p.m. at Studio 54 inside the MGM Grand and brings with it a full cast of entertainers and cash prizes.

Like its sister production in the spring (Ribbon Of Life), the Beaux Arts Ball is a major fundraising event benefiting Golden Rainbow, an organization that provides housing and direct financial assistance to Southern Nevadans affected by HIV/AIDS, whose needs might otherwise not be met. The organization also funds HIV/AIDS education and prevention programs.

The Beaux Arts Ball is more than a party or fundraising effort—it's a legacy. The late Mark Tan, a Las Vegas entertainment writer and publicist who discovered new talent, originally launched the event.

"His daughter Tracy was nice enough to give the event to charity," explains Missy Cochran, event producer and Golden Rainbow board member. "Every year, we try very hard to honor Mr. Tan's memory and to live up to his expectations and the tradition he created."

Hosted by Jimmy Emerson, along with King of the Ball Shannon Hardin, and his Queens Stephanie Jordan and Jennifer Ross, this year's costume ball will feature performances by cast members from production shows across the Las Vegas Strip and other shows in the Las Vegas Valley, including "Follies Bergere," "Jubilee!," "Saturday Night Fever," "We Will Rock You," "Midnight Fantasy." The Vamps, Showgirls of Club Paradise, Studio 54 Cast, Culture Shock, Chanel, and Weego!

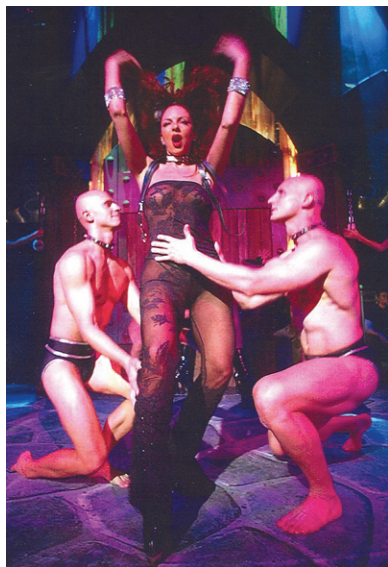

Assembling major talent and coordinating a show of this size has become a trademark of Golden Rainbow's fundraising efforts.

"We bring together hundreds of performers every year for the 'Ribbon of Life' production show," said Cochran, "so we have a lot of experience in pulling different casts together for a unique show. Plus, all the performers are amazing in coming together for the cause, and, they have a lot of fun performing outside of their usual element."

will surely bring their own unique festive brand to the Beaux Arts Ball.

"Every year, Studio 54 creates Hallow-Eden and they transform the club into a total Halloween spectacular with events going on every night of the week," explains Cochran. "Beaux Arts is fortunate enough to be one of those great events."

What ball would be complete without a costume contest? Cash prizes will be awarded for the following: Best costume overall—$1,054.00; Best group costume (three or more minimum)—$654.00; Sexiest costume—$254.00; and Best drag—$254.00.

TONGUE IN CHEEK

BY KEVIN ISOM

Well, who would have guessed it? John Kerry pulls an increasingly moribund campaign out of the deep-freeze by out-jousting President Bush in the first presidential debate. And the Reverend Jimmy Swaggart threatens to murder any gay man who thinks about going marital on him.

Both cases involve people who really need to take a good, hard look at themselves in a mirror. Specifically, President Bush should definitely review his facial expressions that the TV split-screen caught whenever Senator Kerry was speaking. I've seen more appealing expressions on an orangutan. (Remember the TV series BJ and the Bear from the 80's?) I could barely listen to the man speak, because I was laughing so hard at the President's angry, befuddled, and totally-over-it expressions shown on the split-screen. It seemed to me that the President should have outsourced his facial expressions that night. Sure, Kerry "won," but those Bush poses? Priceless.

And as for Swaggart—please! Has he seen himself in a mirror lately? I can't imagine there are many men lining up at his door, ready to drop to one knee (to propose marriage, of course). Besides, if Swaggart's past history is any indication, any such male suitor would have to catch up to Swaggart in the company of the latest female prostitute he happens to be caught with. Not exactly a recipe for gay marital bliss.

In case you missed it, what I'm talking about are Swaggart's comments on his syndicated television ministry. He said on a September 12 broadcast that,

"I've never seen a man in my life that I wanted to marry. And I'm going to be blunt and plain: if one ever looks at me like that, I'm going to kill him and tell God he died." The congregation laughed and applauded. Suggesting murder is, after all, classic comedy.

Of course, one wonders

Apparently, it's bad to show an attractive black woman's breast, but it's okay to advocate murder of gay folks.

And that's the problem with the Swaggart comment. When the sort of conduct that Swaggart suggested is remotely acceptable in public speech, it plants the idea in people that, "If he had said instead that he'd never seen a "black" or "Jew" he wanted to marry, and that he would kill any one that ever looked at him that way. Do you think there would have been more universal condemnation of his comments? Do you think he would even have said it? And I think that's the outrage.

In odd contrast to Swaggart's televised mouth malfunction, we've just seen a Vice Presidential debate where, for the first time ever, gay marriage was discussed. Sure, it was Senator John Edwards who supported partnership rights for gays (though not marriage, which he believed, singing the Kerry chorus, "is between a man and a woman"). And Edwards, not Vice President Cheney, mentioned that Cheney had a gay daughter (It's easy to be courageous when it's not your own child).

But more telling, when Cheney was given an opportunity to respond to Edwards' comments and to defend President Bush's support of the federal anti-gay-marriage amendment, he instead thanked Edwards for his kind words about Cheney's family—and he shut up. He refused to further defend the Bush amendment. I think his silence then was more eloquent than anything else he said that night.

Who would have guessed it? And I saw it on TV. ▼

Kevin Isom is the author of It Only Hurts When I Polka and Tongue in Cheek and Other Places, available at bookstores and online. He may be reached at isomonline@aol.com or KevinIsom.com.

As seen on TV

"...I was laughing so hard at the President's angry, befuddled, and totally-over-it expressions shown on the split-screen."

about the basic intelligence (or lack thereof) of a man who could think it would even be a semi-intelligent comment to say that he's never seen a man that he wanted to marry. Could it perhaps be because he's NOT GAY? Hello!? Paraphrasing an old campaign slogan, "It's the sexual orientation, stupid!"

But the suggestion of killing a gay man wasn't funny. It was troubling, at best. In fact, it troubled a Canadian citizen enough to make a complaint to the Canadian Broadcast Standards Council, while an American gay rights group asked the IRS to review the tax-exempt status of Swaggart's ministry. The American FCC, which fined the CBS television network $500,000 for Janet Jackson's Booby-gate incident at the Super Bowl, was notably silent.

he says it on TV, it must be okay," when in fact, it's not okay—and when the likelihood is that young men in the listening audience will take away the message that they should kill a man who looks at them the wrong way. After all, thousands of people listen to what Swaggart has to say. God only knows why, if you'll pardon the expression.

Predictably, Swaggart said he meant it as a "humorous statement." Oh, yeah. As a humorist, I often suggest murder to get my best laughs. Makes total sense. Swaggart also said, "If it's an insult, I certainly didn't think it was, but if they are offended, then I certainly offer an apology." First question: "If" it's an insult? Second question: Was that really an apology? I can't tell.

What Matthew Shepard Taught Us

By John Edwards

We still remember the fence where Matthew died. His brutal murder opened our country's eyes to the hatred and violence that many gays and lesbians endure.

It was six years ago that we learned the name Matthew Shepard. We might someday have learned about how this bright, kind and compassionate man contributed to our country. But we learned Matthew Shepard's name because of the terrible way he was killed on October 12, 1998.

We still remember the fence where Matthew died. His brutal murder opened our country's eyes to the hatred and violence that many gays and lesbians endure. Yet here we are, six years later, with a President who refuses to support legislation barring hate crimes based on sexual orientation.

According to the FBI, crimes committed in 2002 due to bias based on sexual orientation represent 1 in 6 of reported hate crime incidents. There were more than 1200 incidents and 1500 victims in 2002 alone.

John Kerry and I want an America that is stronger at home and more respected in the world. We know we cannot achieve that goal until we recognize that all Americans, including gays and lesbians, are part of the fabric of America's family. And when it comes to family, we must protect each other. We must recognize that crimes against people because of their race, religion, or sexual orientation have no place in America.

That is why John Kerry and I firmly support the bipartisan legislation that will add new protections against hate crimes motivated by the real or perceived sexual orientation of the victim. George Bush has said that this kind of legislation amounts to "special rights." But there's nothing special about the right to be free from hateful violence. In America, people ought to be able to take that right for granted.

As Judy Shepard, Matthew's mother, has said, "Matt is no longer with us today because the men who killed him learned to hate. Somehow and somewhere they received the message that the lives of gay people are not as worthy of respect, dignity and honor as the lives of other people."

Keep her words in your thoughts, and on November 2nd, I urge you to vote for John Kerry—in memory of Matthew Shepard and the thousands of other Americans whose lives have been cut short for no other reason than being themselves. ▼

Hate Crimes Bill Killed In Congress

On October 7, the Republican leadership of the House of Representatives refused to allow amendments to the new Defense Department authorization bill, that would have finally protected gays and lesbians from hate crimes based on sexual orientation.

The Human Rights Campaign (HRC) decried the removal of the amendments, which would have allowed state and local jurisdictions to prosecute hate crimes based on actual or perceived race, color, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, or disability.

Current law limits federal jurisdiction to "federally protected" activities such as voting, and does not permit federal jurisdiction over violent crimes motivated by bias against the victim's sexual orientation, gender, or disability.

"Instead of promoting hate crimes protections, the President is promoting discrimination," said HRC President Cheryl Jacques. "Voters will remember that on Nov. 2."

HRC along with several other LGBT civil rights groups have tried tirelessly since 1998 to provide protection for gays and lesbians under hate crimes laws. ▼

HOROSCOPES BY REV. BILL MORIN

Libra

(September 23-October 22)

This period gets off to a smashing and successful start. Don't expect to catch your breath until Oct. 25th. Financial aspects brighten after Nov. 1st. The 8th is best for seeing financing for real estate deals. Start looking for new living quarters on the 10th. You'll "luck out."

Scorpio

(October 23-November 21)

Preparation & timing guarantee success on Oct. 20th. Don't make a love commitment unless you're 100% sure. Halloween proves a social highlight. Tense vibes at work on Nov. 5th could disrupt the "team." Be open to suggestions from superiors on the 12th.

Sagittarius

(November 22-December 21)

You'll be so in demand, there won't be much time to smell the "roses." Cash flow from Oct. 14th-31st is phenomenal. It'll be necessary to turn down a few "gigs" around Nov. 7th. Probable new love interest arrives before the 14th and you won't believe your eyes or heart.

Capricorn

(December 22-January 19)

This month contains equal parts of rain and rainbows. Carry an umbrella! A "green eyed" competitor tries to rock the boat on Oct. 29th. Be careful what you say on Nov 9th, as the "walls will have ears." A happy financial turnaround on the 10th brings about incredible relief.

Aquarius

(January 20-February 18)

Finances are the dominant theme during this time, which will move at "light speed." Oct. 22nd looks ripe for attracting new clientele. You'll glean more by observing instead of chatting on the 30th. A moral dilemma on Nov. 8th has no easy answer. Watch your spending on the 12th.

Pisces

(February 19-March 19)

Good intentions won't be enough to make your case on Oct. 18th. Emotional peaks and valleys will pop up all month long. It's best to avoid a serious involvement for the time being. Force yourself to dress up on the 31st. A weekend getaway from Nov. 5th-7th is magical.

Aries

(March 20-April 19)

Creative juices flow especially strong on September 17th & 18th. Common courtesy goes a long way on the 25th. Have your vehicle's fluids checked by the 30th. Cash flow dwindles on October 7th but don't let it spook you. The 10th looks best for a lazy "do nothing" day. Try it & you may like it.

Taurus

(April 20-May 20)

Physical energies and enthusiasm run quite high right up to Halloween. Lunar Eclipse in your sign on the 27th draws many of the "power players" to you. Some momentum fades on Nov. 2nd. Don't begin new projects until after the 14th. Start planning that Christmas getaway right now.

Gemini

(May 21-June 21)

Career matters will keep you chained to that cell phone for most of this month. That's what comes from juggling multiple projects, especially on Oct. 29th. Keep from spreading yourself too thin on Nov. 6th. Workload on the 11th & 12th may be too much to bear. Chill out on the 14th.

Cancer

(June 22-July 22)

Sticking to your "guns" pays off big dividends on Oct. 21st. Don't let competitors browbeat you on the 28th. Leases and closings are best completed by Nov. 7th. Your financial comfort zone stabilizes somewhat after the 10th. Lighten up your significant other with a surprise gift on the 13th.

Leo

(July 23-August 22)

Digestive problems may resurface on Oct. 19th. Try not to play "know it all" on the 25th or it could really backfire. Don't make promises you can't keep on Nov. 3rd or a friendship could suffer. Career opportunities come from all directions between Nov. 7th & 12th. Pick & choose wisely.

Virgo

(August 23-September 22)

Eclipse vibes between the 15th & 26th will have you climbing the walls at times. Keep as busy as possible. Energy patterns calm after Oct. 28th. An old friend returns around Nov. 6th. It'll take some time to get those finances back on track. Expect a sizzling encounter on the 9th.

TROY By Michael Derry
#107 "TWISTED SISTERS"

RIGO, YOU WON'T BELIEVE WHAT HAPPENED TO ME AFTER YOU LEFT! JUST AS I WAS ABOUT TO RIP NICK A NEW ASS-HOLE, BOQUISHA SHOWS UP AND TELLS ME THAT ROY McDONALD... YOU REMEMBER THAT LITTLE TRAMP WHO TRIED TO STEAL MY LIFE LAST YEAR BEFORE BEING SWALLOWED UP BY THE GAY PORN INDUSTRY?

ANYWAY, HE'S NOW MY UNDERSTUDY IN "NAKED BOYS BEHIND BARS, SING!" AND YOU KNOW THE ONLY REASON HE'S DOING IT IS SO HE CAN GET HIS FILTHY PANTS ON NICK! SO NOW I'VE GOT MY RAPID CLONE RE-INVADE MY PERSONAL LIFE AND MY PROFESSIONAL LIFE! CAN YOU BELIEVE THIS??? IS THIS NOT THE MOST TWISTED SITUATION EVER!!!

REALLY? HMMMMM! WELL, LISTEN TO THIS! AFTER I LEFT YOU, I RAN INTO JORGE PASSING OUT FUERS FOR A HOMOSEXUAL DEPROGRAMMING CENTER!!! MY EX-GO-GO BOY/EX-BOYFRIEND IS NOW AN "EX-GAY!" AND THE CAMP HE'S AT IS RUN BY THAT PSYCHO GUARD FROM LAST YEAR WHEN YOU GUYS WERE IN JAIL!

OFFICER "SEXUAL CONFUSION" THEN THREATENS ME THAT JESUS IS COMING TO SMITE ME TO HELL AFTER WHICH, JESUS... OH YES! THE BIG J.C. HIMSELF! ...ACTUALLY SHOWS UP! BUT DOES HE SHOTE ME? NO! HE JUST ASKS ME TO LIGHT HIS JOINT! THE BIG MAN HIMSELF WAS OUT PARTYSING DOWN WITH THE QUEENS ON GAY DAY! NOW THAT'S TWISTED!!!

WELL I WON'T TELL HIM YOU'RE HERE IF YOU PROMISE NOT TO SAY ANYTHING TO RAY ABOUT... OH HEY, RAY. SO... HOW YOU GUYS DOWN WITH THE WHOLE MARRIAGE, WEDDING THING?

WELL WE DEFEATED THE FMA THE FIRST TIME THEY TRIED TO PASS IT BUT THEN THOSE SNEAKY, UNDERHANDED, LITTLE BASTARDS SUPPLIED IN THIS SHADY LAW DISALLOWING THE SUPREME COURT FROM HEARING CHALLENGES TO DOMA THEREBY COMPLETELY REMOVING THOSE ANNOYING LITTLE CHECKS AND BALANCES FROM THE US GOVERNMENT!

THEN YOU JUST KNOW CARL ROVE IS LIKE, "YOU KNOW, DICK, I'VE GOT GEORGIE SUCKING UP TO THE RELIGIOUS RIGHT 'CAUSE THEY'RE OUR BASE AND ALL, SO WHY DON'T YOU GO OUT THERE AND SUCK UP TO ALL THOSE HOMO LOVIN' PUSSIES AND WE'LL HAVE IT BOTH WAYS!" SO CHENEY COMES OUT WITH THIS WHOLE, "WELL I'VE GOT A GAY DAUGHTER AND I BELIEVE IN FREEDOM FOR ALL!" BULLSHIT!

BUT DO YOU EVEN SEE MARY CHENEY ONSTAGE AFTER THE SPEECH? NO!!! THEN COMES GEORGE W. BUCKIN' FUSH SAYING ALL OVER AGAIN HOW IT'S HIS "SOVEREIGN DUTY" TO PROTECT ALL THOSE FRAGILE, LITTLE, STRAIGHT FAMILIES AND THAT ALL THEIR PROBLEMS COULD BE SOLVED IF WE JUST OUTLAW GAY MARRIAGES! "SEE? IT'S ALL THE GAYS' FAULT!! OH, AND WHILE WE'RE AT IT, VOTE FOR US OR YOU'LL ALL BE BLOWN THE SMITHER-EEEEEEENS!!!"

OK. WELL... THAT'S... THAT'S JUST GREAT. BUT, YOU KNOW, I REALLY SHOULD GET BACK AND CHECK ON TROY. HE'S KIND OF IN A... A BAD PLACE RIGHT NOW... TAKE ME WITH YOU!

SO, DID ANYONE NOTICE ANYTHING FAMILIAR ABOUT THE WORLD OF ORWELL'S "1984?"

1984 + 20 = 2004

WAR IS PEACE. FREEDOM IS SLAVERY. IGNORANCE IS STRENGTH.

I bought a laptop, which, in case you weren't aware, has nothing to do with submissive oral service.

PEEPING WITH TOM BY TOM MOILANEN

I must announce that this is a first: After six years and approximately 70 columns, I am at long last writing on a computer. Not that anyone would care, but until right now everything I've whipped up has been by hand (which seems to be my modus operandi for lots of stuff). I bought a laptop, which, in case you weren't aware, has nothing to do with submissive oral service. I'm not a technophobe; really I'm not. It's just that I like the feel of a tangible object in my grasp, especially if it's attached to a 19-year-old blonde boy.

Frightening though it may sound, I'm actually teaching at UNLV these days. My job demands it. It also demands some degree of professionalism, which I've managed to pull off convincingly, at least so far. (It's amazing how a button-down shirt and a pair of Rockports can bamboozle even the sharpest professor). Once they find out I'm completely clueless I'll be out on my ass. Thank God for the Clark County School District. I'll fit right in.

Speaking of conformity, I could fit a certain part of my anatomy in Josh Elliot, one of the young bucks at Bel Ami Studios and star of their latest contribution called Pretty Boy (pretty lame title, but boy what a barnburner). I have drooled and fawned and doted and generally made a total nincompoop of myself over Bel Ami for years, so why should I stop now? Besides, my respect for their product isn't without merit. It remains to this day the finest pornography produced anywhere.

Pretty Boy features a bunch of relative newcomers to the Bel Ami stable. I recognize Matt Philippe from previous productions, but that's all she wrote. Some dude named Sven Olafsson must've swooped down from somewhere in Scandihoovia (or Northern Minnesota, yah, you betcha) for the shoot, and Kiefer Sullivan, Marc Vidal, and Mark Aubrey could have materialized out of the Andromeda Galaxy for all I know. (Kiefer Sullivan? Sounds suspiciously close to Donald Sutherland's kid, don't you think?) Not to worry—these guys are all first-class models, as is always the case with Bel Ami. Interestingly, they seem to have bumped up the average age in recent flicks. Elliot still screams twinkie boy, but in general their models have graduated from the late teens into the early twenties. Darn. Time for the gold watch.

One thing I must point out is that this flick is shot with sort of a whitewashed feel. Don't get me wrong—the rich production values are all in place, but for some reason Director/Producer George DuRoy and Videographer Marty Stevens saw fit to give the footage an airier tone. (Airier? Is that a word?) Once again I'm clueless. I would have an easier time understanding their thinking if their artsy-fartsyness was obviously linked to a theme. Who knows? Maybe someone told them to lighten up.

Of course the sex is as frisky and fun and happy as usual, which is perhaps Bel Ami's biggest asset. They've been in the biz over a decade, and everything they've ever cranked out features guys who show genuine affection for one another. If getting shat upon in a bathtub by a bunch of clowns wearing gas masks gets you off, stay away. Into the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune? Try a dungeon. Pretty Boy might be vanilla, but in this grossly Neapolitan world, a couple scoops of 'ordinary' are looking mighty sweet. Just make sure you're careful when it's time to pack the fudge.

What's up with Real to Reel Pictures these days? The creators of the 18 and Hard series seem to have confused their quest for quality with a desire for dorkiness in Bone Alone 2: Lust In L.A. I don't get it. Ever. The box cover looks rather inviting, what with the obvious references to the Macauley Culkin flick. (With a last name like 'Culkin' he really ought to be setting tiles for a living). But packaging can be deceptive, especially in gayland.

So what's the problem? Bone tries to be funny, that's the problem. Humor can work very well in the porn world, but herein lies the rub: It needs to be good humor, and we're not talking ice cream. (Pair this up with Pretty Boy and you could call it Cone Alone). Remember the old, straight Marilyn Chambers/Ron Jeremy flicks from the late 70's? They were funny. They were erotic. They had a sense of both, and knew what was appropriate when. Bone doesn't know a femur from a humerus, so to speak.

Dick Stone directs this forgettable farce. It stars some dude named Steven Hunter as Mac Alone, which is about the most retarded choice of names I can think of. Trying to be cutesy is very trying, especially to my patience. Another doofus who goes by "Markie" makes an appearance, rounded out by a bunch of no-names. (Markie's resume includes a few flicks for LA Heat Productions and Factory Video. Too bad they weren't satisfactory).

I'd love to tell you the sex is good enough to eclipse this goofiness, but I was too close to the forest to see the wood. The frenetic choppiness of the between-the-scenes, running-around-the-house, sped-up footage smacks of Charlie Chaplin, which is about as un-sexual as you can get. The boys are actually kind of cute in an L.A. sort of way, which means the little head contains more gray matter than the big head. (If Markie were any dumber he could sit on the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals). The bottom line is that while you might get your jollies checking out the models, the fascination wears off faster than Old Spice.

Talk about a fragrant violation.
