Whether you're a local or tourist, we always feature our favorite spots along with all the new and exciting things our city has to offer.

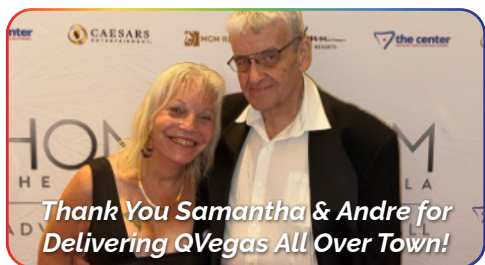

HAPPY PRIDE! Las Vegas celebrates Pride Month 2025 with a vibrant lineup of events, from drag shows and comedy nights to pool parties, picnics, and puppet slams. With venues citywide honoring LGBTQ+ culture and history—especially the newly recognized Fruit Loop District—this month-long celebration uplifts, entertains, and unites our diverse queer community.

Winnie & Ethel's Downtown Diner launches a soulful new dinner menu blending elevated comfort food, nostalgic charm, and community spirit—highlighting dishes like blackened trout, smoky deviled eggs, and warm cookies.

LEZ Speed Date, hosted by Lez Touch Ent, offers a vibrant, in-person alternative to online dating—creating safe, inclusive spaces where queer women in Las Vegas connect, flirt, and build real community.

Viva Queer Vegas!

A Month of Pride, Power & Parties

If there's one thing Las Vegas knows how to do, it's put on a show. But during Pride Month, the city dials the drama all the way up to 11, tossing glitter in the face of adversity and turning every dance floor, park, library, and pool deck into a stage for queer joy and resistance. From family picnics and drag royalty to queer puppetry and unapologetically loud pool parties, June 2025 is bursting with color, community, and courage.

This year, we celebrate Pride against the backdrop of legislative recognition that the historic Fruit Loop—home to our beloved Gipsy and Piranha nightclubs—has been officially designated as a Nevada State Historic District. In a time of rising national division, book bans, and DEI rollbacks, Las Vegas doubles down on its LGBTQ+ legacy with a month that celebrates not just identity but history, art, protest, and love.

June 1 – 2

Opening Weekend:

Pride kicked off on Sunday, June 1 with Reign XXVII's Family Picnic Extravaganza at Sunset Park. In collaboration with NGRA, this daytime outing offers carnival games, raffle prizes, water balloon fights, and plates of food. Family-friendly, community-focused, and the perfect soft open to a very extra month.

The following weekdays (June 2–4) give us a brief moment to breathe, hydrate, and prep our outfits—because from June 5 onward, it's nonstop.

June 5 – 8

Legends, Puppets, and Pride Icons:

On Thursday, June 5, head to Windmill Library for The PRIDE Icons Show, an immersive Vegas City Opera event styled like a talk show. Celebrate musical icons like Judy Garland and Liza Minnelli through stories, performances, and audience interaction—all free and open to the public.

Saturday, June 7, lets things get weird—in the best way possible—with Puppet Slam PRIDE, an 18+ variety show at the Vegas Theatre Company. Produced by Loose Thread Puppet Cult, this ritualistic, raunchy revue blends puppetry, drag, and horror into an unforgettable night of felt and fury.

June 9 – 14

Pasta, Punchlines, and Pride House Parties

Wednesday, June 11 brings the official launch of Kassi Pride House Party at Kassi Beach House, in partnership with Gipsy and Piranha. Expect jaw-dropping drag shows, beachy cocktails, and 50% off select pastas—because carbs are a Pride Month staple.

Thursday, June 12, delivers a quadruple hit:

Jen Kober, queer comedy powerhouse, takes the stage with her raw, riotous stand-up at Wiseguys at Town Square.

Las Vegas Ballpark hosts Pride Night with DJ LoLo, $2 drinks, and a tie-dye tank exclusive.

Juliet Cocktail Room turns up the glamour with their Pride Month Celebration Party, featuring an open bar, four fierce drag sets, and a DJ-fueled afterparty.

Let the competition begin! The highly anticipated Drag Royale competition starts at Gipsy.

Friday, June 13, features Queer Comedy Night at Windmill Library, where Jozalyn Sharp and Steven Roberts serve up queer hilarity, insight, and a dash of raunch in a free-to-attend showcase. Joan Jett & The Blackhearts kick off 5 nights at House of Blues.

Saturday, June 14, is a Vegas-sized triple whammy:

Fortune Feimster headlines her "Taking Care of Biscuits" tour at The Palazzo.

Leather and Lace debuts at Dust Las Vegas, crowning the first-ever Mr./Miss/Mx in an IRSCDEI showdown.

And none other than Alyssa Edwards takes the 24 Oxford stage at Virgin Hotel with her new show, "Crowned," supported by queens from Piranha and Gipsy.

June 15

Puppies, Pool Parties, and Drag Goddesses

Sunday, June 15, is stacked with feel-good fabulousness:

Pride Puppy Yoga at The Spa combines rescue pups in rainbow outfits with downward dog stretches. All proceeds go to Wagging Tails Rescue.

PRIZM Pool Party at Kassi Beach Club—presented by Gipsy and Piranha—brings sun, sand, and sequins to your Sunday splash sesh, followed by Frank Marino's Divas, Drag & Drinks.

Juneteenth Pride Block Party at The Center offers food, music, and culture with purpose.

Henderson Pride's Annual Car Wash rolls out comedy, suds, and drag with "the best hand job in town," courtesy of the ladies of The Phoenix Bar.

Gipsy caps off the day with the launch of Gipsy P.O.P. Sundays, the new "after pool" Party on Paradise. Come as you are right from the pool and continue the party through sundown with music, food, and of course cocktails.

June 16 – 23

Mid-Month Magic

June 18 sees a second round of Puppet Slam PRIDE, in case you missed the madness earlier in the month.

Thursday, June 19, marks HRC's Third Thursday happy hour at We All Scream. Score a free drink by RSVPing online, and enjoy the queerest crowd in Downtown.

June 20 & 21 is the big OUTrageous Comedy doubleheader, with Jimmy Kimmel's Comedy Club hosting a packed weekend of LGBTQ+ comedy, drag, and variety. Meanwhile, Big Valley Wrestling: Loud & Proud slams down at The Center, showcasing queer wrestlers from across the country in a benefit bonanza.

GLITZ: The Showkids Show returns to Gipsy for another jaw-dropping performance on June 21

Also on June 21 is PRIDE in Wellness at Whitney Library—a resource fair with legal aid, health screenings, and support services tailored for LGBTQ+ individuals.

June 23 – 30

Closing Week

Monday, June 23, features two low-key but high-impact events:

A Pride Poetry Showcase at West Charleston Library

A Las Vegas Men's Chorus sneak peek, previewing their full concert.

Jaymes Mansfield takes the stage on June 27 & 28 when OUTrageous Comedy returns to Jimmy Kimmel's Comedy Club.

And speaking of the Las Vegas Men's Chorus, their mainstage spectacle, "Broadway Our Way", closes out the month in style on Sunday, June 29 at UNLV's Artemus W. Ham Concert Hall. With over 100 voices belting out hits from Wicked, Hairspray, and A Chorus Line, it's the perfect final bow to a month of queer creativity.

That same day, Pahrump Pride kicks off at the Nugget Hotel & Casino, offering small-town Pride with big heart—vendors, entertainment, and love for all.

All Month Long

Omega Mart celebrates all month long with Pride-inspired cocktails, and Temptation Sundays continues its 15th year of Sunday gay pool party celebrations.

Closing Thoughts

Whether you're voguing in the sand, sipping cocktails on the Strip, or cheering at the library, Pride Month in Las Vegas has something for everyone. This year, we don't just celebrate our queerness—we amplify it in every space possible. So grab your fan, your fiercest fit, and a calendar—because Pride in Vegas is not a weekend, it's a whole damn lifestyle.

Dinner Is Served

Winnie & Ethel's Downtown Diner Adds Nighttime Nostalgia with a Modern Twist

By Russ White & Ward Billieisen

Las Vegas has never been short on showstoppers, but when a cozy, vintage-style diner manages to turn heads in a city of neon and novelty, you know they're doing something right. Winnie & Ethel's Downtown Diner, nestled in the heart of the Huntridge neighborhood at Maryland and Charleston, is already beloved for its nostalgic breakfast and lunch fare. Now, with the launch of their long-awaited dinner service, this charming eatery is aiming to become a new favorite after sundown, too.

We were invited to a special preview of the dinner menu—and if this meal is any indication, Winnie & Ethel's has something magical simmering after dark.

The setting is pure Americana—warm wood tones, mid-century charm, and a familial vibe that immediately makes you feel like a regular, even if it's your first visit. And there's a reason for that: Winnie & Ethel's is a tribute to co-owners Aaron Lee and Mallory Gott's grandmothers. Their photos even grace opposite walls of the restaurant, creating a sweet, symbolic embrace over the dining room. "There's a real sense of legacy here," Ward noted. "But nothing about it feels stuck in the past."

"The idea of Winnie and Ethel's stemmed from a 1940s round-the-clock diner concept," says co-owner Mallory Gott. "But what downtown really needed was a comfy, cozy, homey supper club vibe. It's all the fun without the mess at home."

A Warm Welcome

We kicked off the evening with Homemade Focaccia served alongside High Mesa butter—the kind of starter that makes you feel like you're in grandma's kitchen, but fancier. The butter, studded with charred green onions, played beautifully against the dense, herbed bread.

Next came a pair of appetizers that showed off the kitchen's playful side. The Smoky Deviled Eggs were a favorite of the night—four yolky halves topped with candied bacon, jalapeño escabeche, and cotija cheese that delivered just the right kick. "It's the deviled egg's sexy cousin," Ward joked. "All dressed up with spice and sass."

The Catfish & Corn Fritters were another table favorite. Crispy on the outside, smooth and dense on the inside, these fritters defied expectations. "They looked like hush puppies but tasted like something far more refined," said Russ. "No fishiness, just flavor." Paired with a Cajun remoulade, they were dense, golden nuggets of comfort.

Entrees that Shine

For his entrée, Russ went with the Blackened Idaho Rainbow Trout—a perfectly seared filet seasoned with Cajun spices, finished with lemon zest, herbs, roasted tomato, and a dollop of High Mesa butter. "This was everything you want a blackened dish to be—crispy skin, zero bones, and deeply seasoned," he said. The cool spätzle salad served alongside was a nostalgic bonus. "It reminded me of something my ex's mother used to make," Russ added. "Only this version had a Vegas twist."

Ward opted for The Best Veg Burger, and no, the name isn't hyperbole. Built on a buckwheat and shiitake patty and topped with spicy mustard and miso-braised cabbage on a brioche bun, it was satisfying without feeling heavy. "This wasn't your average veggie burger," Ward said. "It held together perfectly but still melted in your mouth. And that mustard-miso combo? Genius."

Both entrees were paired with thoughtful wine selections—Paso Verde white for the trout and a chilled Coppola Prosecco split for the veg burger—further proof that this isn't your average diner dinner.

Dinner at Winnie & Ethel's isn't just about the food—it's an experience. From carefully curated wines to inventive cocktails like the Toffee Old Fashioned (with bourbon and house-made toffee syrup) and the Rose Margarita (also available zero-proof), the drinks complement the menu without overshadowing it.

Sweet Finishes & Family Feel

Just when we thought we couldn't eat another bite, the warm Chocolate Chip Cookies arrived. Baked to order, lightly sprinkled with Maldon sea salt, and served right on the parchment paper, they were the perfect nostalgic finale. "It's the kind of cookie that makes you wish you had a glass of milk," Ward said—until we noticed they actually had milk on the dessert menu—because they understand the assignment.

ROUND THE CLOCK

WINNIE & ETHEL'S

Pro tip: Ask about their mac & cheese, which uses the same housemade spätzle as the salad. We didn't try it (yet), but it's at the top of our list for the next visit.

The Verdict

The owners, Mallory and Aaron, made the rounds with genuine warmth. "They really believe in this place," Ward noted. "And it shows—not just in the food, but in the feeling you leave with."

Winnie & Ethel's isn't just expanding their hours—they're expanding their story. With a dinner menu that leans into bold, elevated comfort food and a setting that feels both familiar and fresh, they've created a place where memory and innovation meet.

The charm of Winnie & Ethel's goes far beyond the food. Aaron and Mallory are partners in life and in business, and it shows. The vibe is intentional, heartfelt, and familial.

Winners of The Great Las Vegas Coffee Shop Giveaway, the pair turned their prize—a full build-out in the Huntridge Shopping Center—into one of the most talked-about openings in recent memory. Their goal? To create a space that honored legacy, embraced community, and offered great food without pretense.

"We've carefully curated new bites and flavors, blending comfort and flare to keep everyone's taste buds happy," says Chef Lee.

And they've nailed it.

Winnie & Ethel's Downtown Diner is located at 1130 E Charleston Blvd #140. Breakfast & Lunch: Daily, 8 a.m. – 2 p.m. Dinner: Thursday – Monday, 5 p.m. – 9 p.m.

Finding Love in Five Minutes or Less

How LEZ Speed Date Is Revolutionizing Queer Women's Nightlife in Las Vegas

If you've ever uttered the words "Ugh, the lesbian scene in Vegas is dry," you're not alone—and you're exactly who Lez Touch Ent had in mind when they launched LEZ Speed Date, a monthly in-person dating event made specifically for queer women. What started as a simple idea between three powerhouse creatives has grown into a full-blown community movement, rooted in connection, inclusivity, and, yes, a little flirtation.

Behind the energy of Lez Touch Ent are co-founders Denisha Ashley, Kiara Williams, and Ebony McClain, a trio of community-builders who are reshaping the sapphic social landscape of Las Vegas one event at a time. With roles ranging from MC to graphic designer to event coordinator, they're not just throwing parties—they're curating meaningful, safe spaces where women who love women can show up, let loose, and find their people.

And whether you're looking for a soulmate or a softball partner, LEZ Speed Date might be just what you didn't know you needed.

Queer Women Deserve More Than Apps

"When we first started Lez Touch in 2022, we always knew we wanted to do a speed dating event," says Denisha, who manages project coordination and social media. "Lesbian and queer women have a hard time meeting people here in person—outside of social media, it's slim pickings."

Las Vegas has long struggled to sustain consistent, women-centered queer spaces, especially nightlife events that feel as safe as they are fun. Enter Lez Touch Ent—a collective of creators and curators filling that gap with themed parties, rooftop ragers, and intentional dating experiences.

Their speed dating series, hosted monthly at Fergusons Downtown's intimate F Bar, was designed to bring the dating process back to basics: real people, face to face, no apps, no algorithms.

Fergusons Said Yes

"When we pitched the idea to Fergusons, they immediately said yes," says Kiara, who handles logistics, talent coordination, and design. "That kind of support matters. Not every venue wants to host queer women, and that's just the truth. But Fergusons gave us space to build something real."

The event is RSVP-only and capped at around 30 participants, helping keep the vibe cozy and controlled. "It's 21 and up, strictly for women who love women, and designed to be safe from start to finish," Ebony adds.

Fergusons' central downtown location, walkability, and reputation for hosting inclusive events made it the perfect home for a new kind of queer meetup—something distinctly warm, grounded, and welcoming.

So How Does It Work?

"We start the evening with an hour of icebreakers—music, drinks, food, mingling," Ebony explains. "It gives everyone time to loosen up. We get a lot of introverts and people who say, 'I never go out, I don't know why I'm here!' But that first hour helps."

After that comes the good stuff. From 8 to 10 PM, participants are paired off for five-minute conversations, rotating through matches with the help of custom paper scorecards. Attendees jot down names, impressions, and check boxes—friendship, business, or romantic interest. At the end of the night, Lez Touch collects the cards and helps connect mutual matches.

"It's old-school," Ebony says. "You're not hiding behind a screen. You're talking to someone across from you and learning who they are in real time."

A Scene Reimagined

Since its launch, LEZ Speed Date has helped kickstart dozens of friendships, collaborations, and flings. "Our first event had 40 women show up," Denisha says. "Now we're seeing new faces every month—and that's huge."

Some attendees return every month, using the event as their one true social outing. Others become regulars at Lez Touch parties or pop up at local queer gatherings with new friend groups formed over speed dating rounds.

"It's beautiful to watch," Ebony says. "I've seen strangers turn into brunch besties, hiking partners, even business collaborators. It's more than dating—it's networking, it's healing, it's community."

Beyond the Date

LEZ Speed Date may be the signature event, but Lez Touch Ent isn't slowing down. The team curates a full calendar of immersive queer events all year long—from nostalgic Y2K nights to rooftop Western dance parties to afterparties that keep the vibe going long after the last round.

"We know how to throw a party," Kiara laughs. "But more importantly, we know how to build a space where people feel seen."

That intentionality extends to how they manage social media, promote events, and cultivate an online presence. "People always ask on TikTok, 'Is there anything for lesbians to do in Vegas?'" Denisha says. "And now we get to answer: Yes. There is. Come through."

New for Pride: The Poly Edition

This June, in honor of Pride Month, Lez Touch is trying something new: a Poly Edition of LEZ Speed Date. The goal? To welcome polyamorous and ethically non-monogamous queer women—and their partners—into the fold.

"You'd be surprised how many women in our community are poly," Ebony notes. "We want to make sure they feel included too. This is our first time trying it, and we're excited to see how it goes."

Advice for First-Timers

Thinking of signing up but feeling nervous? Don't worry—you're not alone. "Just be yourself," Ebony says. "It's OK to be awkward. That's half the room!"

And for those looking for a strong opener: "Ask them about their coming-out story," Denisha suggests. "It's always a great way to break the ice and see where someone's coming from."

Also? Some attendees show up just to observe. "We've had people buy tickets, sit at the park, and watch from a distance," Ebony laughs. "They come back the next month and jump in."

The Bottom Line

In a city known for glitz and grind, Lez Touch Ent is offering something much rarer: honest connection. Their events are joyful, intentional, and built with heart. Whether you're dating, soul-searching, or just ready to be out of the house, their message is clear: You're welcome here.

"Vegas has a queer women's community," Ebony says. "We're here. We've always been here. And now there's a space made just for us."

Follow Lez Touch Ent on Instagram and TikTok for updates on upcoming events, RSVP links, and behind-the-scenes stories from Vegas' most authentic queer women's movement. Trust us—it's more than a party. It's a movement.
