a note from our EDITOR

We Did it! QVegas has won its first MAGGIE Award. The Western Publishing Association for more than fifty-eight years has honored publications for their excellence. We've secured our first Maggie for Best Single Editorial Enhanced Photo or Illustration at the 2012 Maggie Awards, for our December 2011, 1 Step Forward & 2 Steps Back Editorial.

1 Step Forward & 2 Steps Back is the result of challenging the QCrew to create a new column to highlight the accomplishments as well as setbacks that have moved this community toward full equality. It certainly has become a work in progress and this month we were just short of overwhelmed, as so much as exploded from the start to the close of June. We are thrilled that this column has received national attention by winning a MAGGIE.

Most important of those events of course was the announcement that the leader of the free world, President Barack Obama has evolved to endorse marriage equality. While we may question the timeliness of Obama's endorsement we will never question whether he ever did it at all. Additionally, make no mistake, there is still hard fight ahead needed take those words and turn it into action.

Early voting is the perfect time to join in that fight. Get to know your political leaders. We are never surprised by hatred we so often are met with at that political level but should stand behind those that seek to embrace all of our civil liberties. This month's Qcommunity Ties features the official QVegas endorsements of dozens of candidates running for office here in Nevada.

This month we give you the swimsuit issue, packed with all sorts of hotness. We thank the Luxor Hotel & Casino for allowing us to make magic in their exclusive east tower suite and Chi Chi LaRue for loaning us her hot boys for a day. Look for our behind the scenes shots and additional photos at QVegas.com.

QVegas Magazine

Special Thanks to Las Vegas.....

Just last month our community was cheering at the words spoken by President Obama, "I've just concluded that for me personally it is important for me to go ahead and affirm that I think same sex couples should be able to get married." Obama has made history for being the first President to endorse gay marriage, however those words mean nothing if the LGBT community does not vote. We can cheer all we want, talk all we want but if on Election Day we stay at home or come up with excuses about why we can't/don't vote/don't make it to the election poll or don't early vote, then all we did was cheer and in the end we let others do the work for us or more likely, against us.

We all vote for different reasons and just voting an LGBT ballot may not be valid for some, however at QVegas Magazine we believe you should know who stands up for your rights and will vote solid on any LGBT issue that is brought before them. The following endorsements are all candidates that have been shown to vote solidly on LGBT issues. We also feel strongly in voting for local candidates, since many make decisions that affect us in our daily lives. We would not have domestic partnerships or transgender laws in our state if it were not for our diverse and supportive state elected officials.

Please use this endorsement as a guide when considering your vote; you may take it to your polling place on June 12th, 2012. Early voting begins May 26th – June 8th. These endorsement will be made available online at QVegas.com

For LGBT Republicans please contact the Log Cabin Republicans for their views on Republican candidates that will vote solid on LGBT issues... our editorial board could not endorse any running in the primary.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS DIST. 1

✓ Titus, Dina (D)

Many in our community have met Dina Titus while out speaking or attending events and even though she is listed here, she will not appear on the ballot since she will have no Primary. Dina Titus will receive the endorsement by QVegas in the November Presidential election.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS DIST. 3

✓ Oceguera, John (D)

Not only is John Oceguera our choice but he has received HRC's National Endorsement.

U.S. CONGRESSIONAL REPRESENTATIVE, Dist. 4

U.S. SENATE

✓ Berkley, Shelley (D)

Has no Primary but will be endorsed by QVegas in November Presidential Election

STATE SENATE DIST. 1

✓ Spearman, Patricia (D)

There is a stark difference between Patricia Spearman and John Lee (D). John Lee does not support domestic partnerships and he is against Obama's stand on Gay Marriage and votes against any LGBT issues that come before him. He has also stated he would not hire a transgender person.

STATE SENATE DIST. 3

✓ Segerblom, "Tick"

Always there for our community.

STATE SENATE DIST. 4

✓ Atkinson, Kelvin (D)

Great on our issues and QVegas has been supporting Atkinson since his first election.

STATE SENATE DIST. 6

✓ Yerushalmi, Benny (D)

Will stand solid on our issues.

STATE SENATE DIST. 7

✓ Parks, David (D)

No Primary, but he will be endorsed in the November Presidential Election. Parks is the only openly gay Nevada politician (although there are four openly gay candidates running in these primary elections.)

2nd Annual Fashion Show & Dinner

by Richard Davis

Aloha! The Long Weekend Dinner and Fashion Show, featuring Tommy Bahama men's and women's wear is taking place on Friday, June 22nd at the Las Vegas Country Club at 3000 Joe W. Brown Drive. The event benefits the work and mission of the American Lung Association (ALA) to save lives by improving lung health and preventing lung disease. The dinner and fashion show at 7:00 p.m. will be preceded by a silent auction and cocktail reception at 5:30 p.m. featuring Tommy Bahama's signature cocktail, the Tommy Bahama Cherry Blossom, mixed with Bacardi torched cherry rum and pineapple and lime juices.

Matthew Gray Gubler, star of CBS' "Criminal Minds," emcee for last year's Live Colorfully Las Vegas ALA benefit fashion show at the Mandarin Oriental, cracked up the audience when he said, "Smoking is the leading cause of statistics." But he added on a more somber note that those statistics make smoking the leading preventable cause of death and lung disease in the United States. The ALA highlighted awareness of tobacco use in the LGBT community in its 2010 report, "Smoking Out a Deadly Threat: Tobacco Use in the LGBT Community." Gloria Solis, an out lesbian health educator with the ALA in California said, "It's important that people see tobacco use as a social justice issue because it affects the LGBT community at a higher rate." Amy Beaulieu, director of tobacco control policy with the ALA in Nevada stated, "The tobacco companies have targeted the LGBT population for many years and we want to put a stop to that." Said Chuck Conner, the ALA's national CEO, "There is a need for additional research specific to the LGBT community and tobacco use." The ALA's local office in Las Vegas partners with LGBT community organizations to present the nationally recognized smoking cessation program, Freedom From Smoking, in the LGBT community. The ALA's community partners have included AFAN, MCC-LV and the Center. QVegas publisher, Kelly McFarlane Smith, with Southwest LGBT Media, was awarded by the ALA as a smoke-free community advocate for QVegas' coverage and support of a smoke-free LGBT community.

Matthew Gray Gubler is planning to be on hand to emcee again for this year's fashion show, TV shooting schedule permitting. Models will make the rounds to each table in Tommy Bahama's signature "Island" fashions, accompanied by the reggae sounds of steel drums. A boutique will be available for purchases of the perfect Hawaiian shirt or wraparound. Dinner will include coconut encrusted mahi-mahi and grilled chicken with mango-infused salsa.

The silent auction during the cocktail reception at 5:30 p.m. will feature over 100 items, including dinner for two with celebrity food critic John Curtas while he reviews a new Las Vegas hot spot; a personal tour with Wayne Newton of his mansion Casa de Shenandoah; a "Criminal Minds" script signed by Matthew Gray Gubler; a Disneyland Resort One-Day Park Hopper pass; Flightlinez Fremont Street Zipline tickets; and a diamond pendant with matching earrings from MJ Christensen Diamonds.

Last year's Live Colorfully Las Vegas ALA fashion benefit featured Kate Spade New York and was attended by over 200 Las Vegas fashion mavens, celebrities and community leaders including former First Lady Dawn Gibbons and Congresswoman Shelley Berkley, and raised some $50,000 for the ALA. Group tables of ten are available for $1500 for this year's dinner and fashion show, or individual seating is available at $150 per person. Buy tickets at www.longweekendvegas.com or call the ALA at 702-431-6333 for more information. Mahalo! ■

Opening New Doors Capital Campaign

The Center's capital campaign, Opening New Doors, is designed to replace our current aging and overcrowded facility with a permanent home that ensures the stability of our vision and mission. The Robert L. Forbuss Building will significantly enhance our ability to provide the critical programming and services to the LGBTQ community in Southern Nevada.

This campaign is about making a home, securing the future, meeting unfulfilled needs, and growing community. So we ask you: What does The Center mean to you? Each and every one of us plays a role in our community and we call upon you to be a part of this campaign. Help build a new community center in Las Vegas – a center you are proud to call your own. Every gift, your gift, is important and meaningful. Make yours today. Visit www.thecenterlv.com or call 702-733-9800. Thank you!

Meet Our New Staff

Kevin Hall, Finance Director, joined the staff in January after volunteering as Bookkeeper for thirteen years. He is a founding member of the Nevada Gay Rodeo Association and served on their board for four years. Kevin was Controller for a local audio equipment rental and sales company for over thirty years. Kevin has been a long standing supporter and volunteer of The Center since its founding.

Andrew (also known as Cameron) Catton, Youth Services Coordinator, joined the staff in March after volunteering as co-facilitator of the youth group, R.U.1.2. He organizes events and plans new youth programs to expand the reach of The Center's services. Cameron's goal is to help The Center grow into an organization that works to meet all of the needs of the LGBTQ community in Las Vegas. Cameron also works with local Gay-Straight Alliances to create safe spaces in schools and is coordinating outreach between youth across the valley to unite future LGBTQ leaders.

Jamelle Avei and Robert Peraza share the new part-time Vegas Mpowerment Project (VMP) Outreach Coordinator position. VMP is a peer-lead HIV and STI prevention program for young gay, bisexual, and transgender men. Jamelle and Robert help design, plan, implement, and promote all outreach activities. They also co-facilitate small group safer sex workshops and recruit, train, and supervise young men to participate in outreach activities. Jamelle feels it is important for young men to have a judgment-free environment in which every individual voice is validated. Robert, who has been part of VMP since 2007, appreciates that the Project offers recreational and social activities as well as opportunities for community building and volunteerism that benefit young men.

ARTrageous Vegas July 28, 2012

The Center's 9th Annual Art Show ARTrageous Vegas is looking for new and original artwork. This exhibition gives artists the opportunity to present their finest works at The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas in our juried show. We're proud to partner with The Cosmopolitan whose mission of satisfying cultural sensibilities and foster a greater awareness, understanding, and appreciation of art and music; all while reaching audiences that might otherwise look past Las Vegas as an art destination goes hand in hand with the theme of ARTrageous Vegas. Application form requests and questions can be emailed to ArtShow@thecenterlv.com.

2012 LGBTQ Youth Prom

The Center's 2012 LGBTQ Youth Prom, "Once Upon a Time," was a tremendous success! 306 youth from across the valley came together in downtown Las Vegas to dance the night away in a fairy tale theme! Thank you to all of the donors and volunteers who helped make a meaningful and magical night possible for our community's youth.

2 STEPS FORWARD...

VP ACCELERATES ADMINISTRATION'S SUPPORT FOR GAY EQUALITY:

Vice President Joe Biden started a domino effect when he announced his support for marriage equality the day after North Carolina outlawed gay marriage. The announcement was to be the first of many endorsements from the Democratic Administration who fully jumped on board with gay civil rights. Whether the announcement was due to Biden's characteristic unfiltered loud-mouthery or it was a calculated attempt at testing the waters, his endorsement compelled Obama to go on record and express his support for gay marriage.

“... when I think about members of my own staff who are in incredibly committed monogamous relationships, same-sex relationships, who are raising kids together, when I think about those soldiers or airmen or Marines or sailors who are out there fighting on my behalf and yet feel constrained, even now that Don't Ask Don't Tell is gone, because they are not able to commit themselves in a marriage, at a certain point I've just concluded that for me personally it is important for me to go ahead and affirm that I think same sex couples should be able to get married.”

HIP HOP STARS VOICE SUPPORT FOR LGBT EQUALITY

Hip hop artist Jay-Z, during a Budweiser music festival press conference in Philadelphia, had this to say about the President's views, "I think it was the right thing to do...It's really not about votes. It's about people. So whether it cost him votes or not, I think it was the right thing to do as a human being." Shortly after, actor Will Smith called Obama's decision "brave," and reiterated his support for the civil rights of gays. Perhaps more surprisingly, bad-boy rapper 50 Cent also expressed his support for gay marriage. The endorsement was cheapened, however, when he continued to ramble on and voiced his concern over gay men touching his "little buns."

HARRY REID CHANGES GAY MARRIAGE STANCE

In lock step with the Obama administration, Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid went on record to express his support for marriage equality. Reid, who is the highest ranking Mormon in the U.S. government, voted 'yes' for Nevada's ban on gay marriage in 2002. Now Reid's stance appears to be evolving along with his party's. Perhaps politicians are starting to realize that being for LGBT equality is a good thing and not necessarily political suicide. Whether it's political flip-flopping or the realization that the country is at a crossroads and progressive politicians would rather be on the right side of history, it's a welcome change.

MISSISSIPPI STATE REP. ANDY GIPSON SUGGESTS GAYS SHOULD BE PUT TO DEATH:

Mississippi State Rep. Andy Gipson (R) took to his Facebook page to warn of the evils of "unnatural" behavior, "associated with the spread of HIV/AIDS," and expressed his concern over the confusion gay marriage may cause in children. Perhaps meaning that it may confuse children to not hate gays? Gipson went on to suggest that gay people should be put to death, by including the biblical passage, Leviticus 20:13. Gipson is a member of the Southern Baptist Convention.

BOXER MANNY PACQUIAO PULLED NO PUNCHES

He went on record to criticize the President's stance against marriage discrimination. Pacquiao is also a lawmaker in the Philippines and is fighting to pass LGBT discrimination laws there.

1 STEP BACK

ON THE AIR

RADIO DJ SUGGEST RAPE IS A CURE FOR LESBIAN

Morning talk show host, Dominic Dieter suggested a man allow his gay daughter to be raped in order to cure her gayness. While discussing a letter that the rock station received from a concerned parent of a lesbian daughter, Dieter suggested that the father get one of his "friends to screw your daughter straight." Fearing for his job the DJ later apologized, saying "I regret what I did say. My comments were inappropriate. They were inexcusable, and just downright stupid."

NORTH CAROLINA BANS GAY MARRIAGE:

On May 8th, N.C. voted overwhelmingly to change their state constitution to include marriage discrimination. Amendment One redefines marriage in North Carolina as only between a man and a woman. North Carolina is now one of 30 states that have added a constitutional ban on gay marriage.

PASTOR THINKS GAYS SHOULD BE IMPRISONED AND LEFT TO DIE

North Carolina Pastor Charles Worley of Providence Road Baptist Church shocked many when he stated in a taped sermon that gay people should be rounded up and put into concentration camps and left to die.

Golden Rainbow Presents 26Th Annual Ribbon Of Life In New Home:

The Smith Center for the Performing Arts

Local HIV/AIDS nonprofit Golden Rainbow consists of two paid employees in one small office. The organization's efforts to assist individuals and families affected by HIV/AIDS however, is a large annual production called "Ribbon of Life."

Taking the stage for the 26th year, Golden Rainbow's "Ribbon of Life" on-stage spectacular is one of the largest HIV/AIDS fundraisers in the state of Nevada and the nonprofit's main source of revenue. The fundraiser is a completely original show unlike any other in the city, featuring some of the best performers from shows on the Las Vegas Strip as well as local entertainment companies like RagTag Entertainment and the Las Vegas Deaf Theatre.

The silver anniversary of "Ribbon of Life" held last year at Paris Théâtre inside Paris Las Vegas Hotel drew a record-setting crowd, raising more than $150,000. Hit acts from the show included "Big Spender" by Fantasy, "The Color Purple" by THE LION KING, Tarzan's "Everything I Am" by PEEPSHOW headliner and co-star of E!'s "Holly's World" Josh Strickland, "Footloose" by Human Nature and Clint Holmes' rendition of "West Side Story" which earned a standing ovation from the crowd.

Las Vegas favorites Clint Holmes, Mo5a-ic, Reva Rice and the coast of Vegas the Show!, Human Nature, Phantom: The Las Vegas Spectacular, Jubilee!, PEEPSHOW and Chippendales are all set to participate in this year's show. Also making the bill, local talent groups including Broadway in the Hood, Las Vegas Deaf Theatre, longtime Golden Rainbow supporters RagTag Entertainment, Mo5a-ic, Las Vegas City Ballet, The Las Vegas Tenors and Las Vegas Men's Choir.

This annual fundraiser directly supports Golden Rainbow's direct financial assistance and affordable housing programs. The financial assistance initiative assists with short-term emergency needs and essential medical costs not covered by insurance as well as limited aid in order to prevent eviction and termination of utility services. The affordable housing program was the first of its kind in Las Vegas, providing permanent shelter to those who would otherwise have no place to call home. In 2011, the organization provided 7,413 nights of shelter, 1,178 days of utility assistance, 1,620 days of transportation and medical and dental assistance to more than 500 households across the valley.

Tickets for Golden Rainbow's 26th "Ribbon of Life" fundraising production start at $38 and are now available for purchase at thesmithcenter.com, goldenrainbow.org and The Smith Center box office at 702.749.2000. All proceeds benefit the nonprofit's mission to provide housing and financial aid to Southern Nevadans living with and affected by HIV/AIDS. This year's "Ribbon of Life" will take place inside Reynolds Hall at The Smith Center for the Performing Arts (361 Symphony Park Avenue) on Sunday, June 24 at 1 p.m. ■

Wade Abel

Wade Abel hails from San Diego, California. In 2004 he joined the cast of Jubilee and made Las Vegas his home. Even before moving to Las Vegas, Abel had heard about Golden Rainbow's Ribbon of Life. "It seemed like such an amazing opportunity for so much talent to get together in one place and I wanted to be a part of that."

Since then he has been involved with every Ribbon of Life except for two; once due to injury and once to illness. "I look forward to it every year because, to have the amazing talent around you is inspiring but for some of the people it's the only time you get to see them," Abel said. "The entertainment community is so tight knit here but we all get so busy that it's nice to get together once a year."

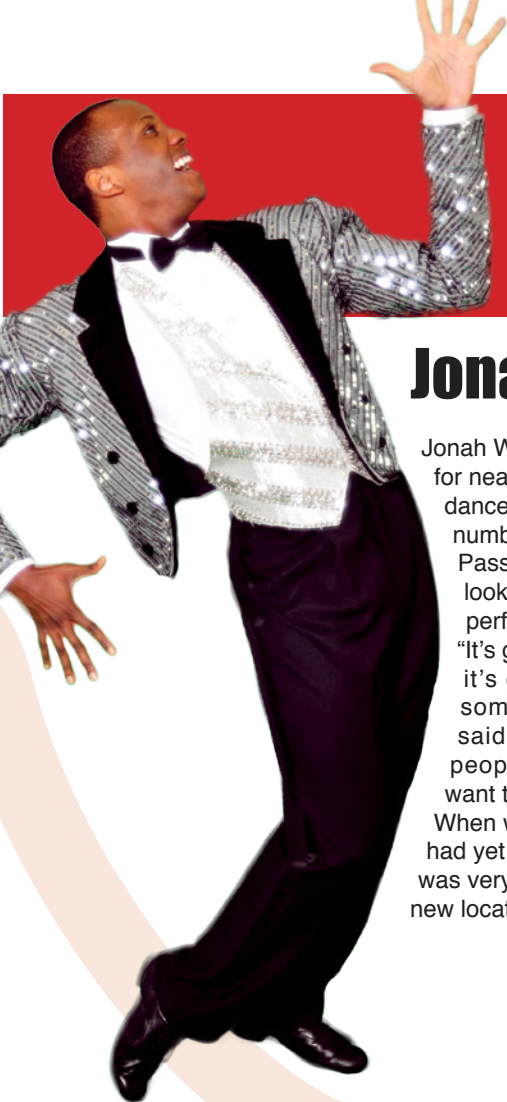

This year Abel is helping put together the big finale and is involved with every aspect of the number including directing, performance, costuming and staging.

Andrew Wright

After moving from New York to Las Vegas, Andrew Wright founded RagTag Entertainment. His mission: to make performance art accessible to all people. The production company has been involved in Golden Rainbow for two years and does three shows a year to benefit the organization. Wright is directly involved with the benefit show as a director and choreographer.

Jonah Wilkins

Jonah Wilkins has been with Jubilee for nearly six years and is a principle dancer. He is involved with two numbers in the show this year.

Passionate about performing, he looks forward to seeing all the performers each year

"It's good for all of us to get together, it's great for us to be able to do something for a cause," Wilkins said, "It's a lot of dedication and people are doing it because they want to give."

When we caught up with Wilkins, he had yet to visit the Smith Center but was very excited about the new location.

Julie Taber

Julie Taber is a dancer at Jubilee, and has been in Las Vegas for six years. She is originally from Indiana, and was in the hugely popular Monty Python's Spamalot.

This year is her fourth year choreographing a number for Ribbon of Life.

"It's gotten a little bit bigger and more each year," Taber said.

She choreographed, directed and performs in a number centered around a big band theme and that includes over 40 people.

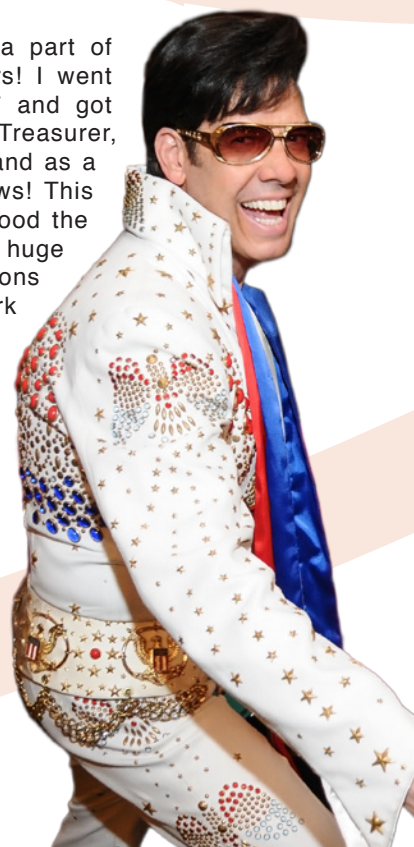

Like all the people involved, Taber had to make time in her schedule for nightly rehearsals between performances at Jubilee.

"It can be a little tiresome but it's so rewarding in the end that it makes it all worthwhile,"

Taber said. "Jubilee has such a rich history in bringing Ribbon of Life alive, it's a wonderful thing to be a part of."

Ron DeCar

Golden Rainbow has been a part of my life for the Past 26 years! I went to the First Meeting in 1987 and got involved and have served as Treasurer, Vice President and President and as a performer in 15 of the 25 shows! This organization is one that had stood the test of time and truly has made a huge difference in the lives of Persons Living with AIDS! As we embark on the 26th Ribbon of Life Fundraiser, I hope that all new performers finding themselves on stage for the first time in this show, continue to bring forth their talents to keep Golden Rainbow alive and well into the Future!

Whats' The T?

BY KEYSKA DIVA

Hey gurl hey! It's only the middle of May so much T has happened from the good the bad, and the DRAG! So let's get the "T" party started! I attended the grand opening of Drink and Drag where I had the pleasure of left-a-lady-in-waiting for UN-cocktail for over 30 minutes. Not because they were busy, but because my bartender was texting on his cell phone after taking the drink order...What the T! The highlight of my night was when my server Des'ree St. James twirled to KNOCK ON WOOD... I peed a little.

Speaking of peeing a little, I was in full drag performing for the BigHorn Gay Rodeo, when cows rolled into town. I'm surprised my eyebrows didn't melt off from the heat or from the sexy cowboys that were galloping around the stables. I had fun cocktailing and bull riding with my sisters Taylor Trash and Kimberly Foxx and searched for the biggest belt buckle and gossiped about Freddie, and I winning Las Vegas Pride. Oh, don't get me started on that drama, cuz all I have to say is... What the T.

So to kick off summer, I was rubbing elbows with the lovely Laura Croft at Eduardo Cordova's first Sunkissed Sundays at Rumor Boutique Hotel. It was a sicken' way to kick off the summer- boys in swim trunks shaking their bootays in my pretty all-natural face. There was this cutie in orange 2Xist swim trunks whose name I was too cocktailed to remember..he was all in my body. I mean he was cute, but I was really more interested in where he got those tight fitting little shorts.

So honey, my QCrew birdy let me in on a little secret occurring at Temptation Sundays in July inside Luxor Hotel and Casino. Q has been hard at it creating an iPhone app that will knock your panties off. I know how you gays heart your iPhone app, so find out the T is in July at Temptation Sunday. J.Son has put together a summer filled with themes such a Christmas in July, 90's dance party and Glam Sunday!

Moving right along; now we have all been clenching our pearls for the T on Gay Days in Orlando which poor me, I can't attend so you gurlz bring back Minnie's beauty secrets.

As far as the shindigs here in our own hometown, from what I've been told by my insider is that the soon-to-open Bagatelle at the Trop is hosting pool parties each day until 6PM and 8PM on select nights, followed by various events at the local bars such as 8 ½ and Share Nightclub. If you've been to GayDays Orlando and know how the gays party, well...just be there!

And that's the way Keyska, calls it!

BOTTOMS UP

GINGER COCKTAILS SPICE UP VEGAS

Mixologists are taking cocktails back to their roots – ginger roots, that is! With their newfound popularity, exemplified at ARIA Resort and Casino, ginger cocktails utilize the aroma and bite of the tantalizing spice to complement a variety of spirits.

The Ginger Sour at Sage, is a classy drink to enjoy at the bar before dinner. Incorporating Rhum J.M. Gold rum with the spicy, aromatic Canton Ginger Liqueur made with fresh, baby Vietnamese ginger, and mixed with ginger syrup, lime, Angostura Bitters and served in a champagne flute, the Ginger Sour provides a delicious beginning to any evening.

"Ginger is very versatile," said ARIA Director of Beverage Michael Shetler. "It brings out the botanicals in gin, the sweetness that comes from the sugar cane in rum and adds a citrus profile to vodka giving character to an otherwise neutral cocktail."

Ginger Sour

- 1.5oz Rhum JM Gold
- .75oz Canton Ginger Liqueur
- .5oz Ginger Simple Syrup
- .75 oz Fresh Lime Juice
- 1 Egg White
- Dash of Angostura Bitters

EATING OUT

SLICE OF VEGAS PIZZA

We decided to take a "slice" out of our time to check out Slice of Vegas, located deep inside Mandalay Place at the Mandalay Bay. How could a place only be open for less than 2 months and already have such great reviews about their food? Pizza is pizza; I mean seriously, WHAT'S THE T MARY?

We decided to loosen up the mood by ordering some cock...tails. Allan went with the Hey Sugar Lips, a sweet and sour martini with a sugar rim. Allan gave that rim a good licking. I ordered the Italian Creamsicle, hoping the creamy liquid would be right to start off the night instead of ending it.

Brian, the manager on duty, insisted he bring out food for us, from appetizers to dessert. Brian sent out bruschetta and meatballs for our appetizers. The bruschetta came with four ways to top your Italian bread: traditional bruschetta mix, roasted pepper and garlic, olive tapenade, and fennel infused Parmigiano-Reggiano. Can you imagine four different tops for your Italian bun? All four had distinctive tastes, but they all fit with the Italian bread like a glove. The meatballs were just the way we like. So tender and succulent, once these marvelous treats hit our mouths... not our chins- our tongues and jaws were put to the test.

Brian teased us by sending the Antipasto Salad before our pizza and pasta. We underestimated this salad. It looked basic, but it packed an amazing flavor into our mouths with every bite. The crisp arugula greens, olives, sweet peppers, artisan meats and cheeses with Slice of Vegas' very own Italian house dressing was the perfect refresher between the apps' and main course.

Our Bolognese Gnocchi pasta came out with our 4 Cheese Truffle pizza. This pizza picked up the pace immediately. From slow to fast we had melted mozzarella, ricotta, parmigiano-reggiano and fontina cheese all over our lips and tongues. We couldn't get enough of the white truffle on the pizza. We kept going for more, but managed to be neat about it...I mean hello, our mugs! Brian thought he had us, but TRUST AND BELIEVE MARY we don't throw in the towel that easy.

Once the pasta and pizza disappeared down our throats, we were approached with the Chocolate Cake and the Brandy Alexander Chocolate Chip Ice Cream. This duo had more to them than met the eye. What looked ordinary, never tasted so extraordinary. The Chocolate Cake with the whipped peanut butter frosting (surprisingly vegan) had a dense texture with a delicate taste. My mug was melting and my weave was out of place. Allan was numb from all the action and could hardly talk.

All this great food had us spent. Take a "SLICE" out of your day to try SICKENING Italian food at Slice of Vegas. Go with that special someone, or with friends. Need room for more? Slice of Vegas can be your host for up to 160 guests... now imagine all the possibilities. Slice of Vegas is more than just a slice; it's a fabulous find.■

"Las Vegas is like a drag queen in that, it's quite unattractive during the day but stunning and beautiful at night," Chi Chi said. "They say what happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas and a lot of stuff I did there can absolutely stay there."

When you hear the name Chi Chi LaRue (pronounced 'she she') you may think of hot porn stars and glossy muscle studs, but the award-winning adult filmmaker is far more than just another porn producer. In addition to making hundreds of movies Chi Chi (Larry David Paciotti out of drag) continues to reinvent herself and has rediscovered a love for Las Vegas.

After 28 years of coming to Las Vegas to perform and collect awards from the annual AVN awards, Chi Chi has struck a delicate balance between the jet-set life of a celebrity porn producer and a healthy lifestyle that eluded Chi Chi before now.

"I was living my life pretty fast for a very long time and Vegas has always been kind of a blur to me," Chi Chi said. "I love it now! I so look forward to coming back there, it's a whole new Vegas for me."

Now instead of walking through the casinos "wig half off" after a night of partying hard, Chi Chi prefers to take in the world class restaurants and shopping of Vegas.

Her new love affair with Las Vegas coincides with a physical transformation as well. Four years ago Chi Chi lost over 140 pounds and continues to drop the weight. The new slimmed down Chi Chi refuses to slow down though. Chi Chi's love of music and her expansive music collection have given rise to her new disc jockey persona.

"I can DJ a country bar, I can DJ disco, I can DJ '80s, I DJ rock 'n' roll clubs," Chi Chi said. "I'm so into music, I have a huge collection of LPs, cassettes and CDs."

She admits to being reluctant to utilize mixing software, and likes the sound and feel of traditional music formats.

"I'm not a headphone-wearing, mixing DJ," Chi Chi said. "I go by instinct, you know, 'cause I wear a big wig."

Chi Chi likes to think of herself as a “drag queen juke box”, and is sought after by new and established recording artists looking to test their tracks out on the dance floor.

She’s good at reading a crowd and a typical DJ set from Chi Chi is anything but typical.

“I’m a pop princess. I’m still up on music,” said Chi Chi, who likes to blend an eclectic mix of old and new. She was dropping Kat Graham’s music before most DJs had even heard of her.

Chi Chi LaRue is more than a porn producer. More than a DJ. More than a drag queen. Like a modern day Andy Warhol, she is a culture-maker. She once told an interviewer that “Porn isn’t anything to be taken too seriously. It’s to get off to,” but that doesn’t stop her from approaching every new venture with love, and pouring her heart into every project. One particular movie that stands out is “Wrong Side of the Tracks”. The production values, directing and acting in this movie rival that of many art-house flicks. Whether it’s movie making, traveling or DJing - Chi Chi just keeps on adding more to her list of titles.

“I need to learn to say ‘no’ sometimes but I wouldn’t want to give up anything.”

We are ecstatic that the newly revamped Chi Chi has fallen in love with Vegas. She can be seen and heard in Las Vegas at Share Night-club for Stripper Circus on select Friday nights.

10 Things A Gay Man Should Never Do Naked

By Mikey Rox

There's nothing wrong with the male body in all it's natural beauty - here's lookin' at you, Channing Tatum - but there's a proper time and a place to don your birthday suit. These are not 10 of them.

1. Frying Chicken in Hot Oil

Do you know what it feels like to be splattered with boiling-hot oil while you're frying a bird? Maybe you don't have experience with chicken, but surely you've griddled up bacon before. Think those fast splashes sting on your hands and face? Just wait until they hit your penis.

2. Playing Beach Volleyball

This is an excellent idea in theory – who wouldn't have paid to see Zack and Slater spiking sans board shorts during their brief stint at the Palisade Hills County Club? When you get down to the nitty and very gritty of it, however, naked volleyball is far from ideal. Just one attempted save by diving for the ball will have you wishing you had covered yours. Is there such a thing as sand burn?

3. Taking a Bath with a Cat

There are some things that common sense dictate, but for a guy on YouTube, bathing with his kitty wasn't one of them. Watch the cringe-worthy video and try not to cup your crotch.

4. Using a Clothes Iron

Funny thing about a full-size ironing board... its height when open hits a man's body right where it counts. Sure, every dude has ironed his pants with no undies on before, but only those who have grazed their dick skin with burning hot metal have the wherewithal to know better.

5. Driving Around Town

It's one thing to have your shirt off (who doesn't like a meathead cruisin' around bare-chested in his Jeep Wrangler during the summer months?), but you can't get away with forgoing the bottoms too. Vehicles higher than yours can see your little jimmy, dude. And how exactly did you plan to get in and out of the supermarket without being arrested?

6. Having a Nervous Breakdown on a Street Corner

You shouldn't do this naked anywhere – but you especially shouldn't do it when you've just become super famous because of a highly celebrated political video that went viral. If you can't avoid that, at least keep your limp wrists in check. You don't want to look gay on national TV, do you?

7. Fake-and-Bake UV Tanning

"The Jersey Shore" boys can offer a tip or two on how to get a golden glow all over your body – but it probably doesn't involve exposing your very sensitive penile epidermis to ultra-violet lights. Please, spray tan your nether region if you must, but also consider that it's just fine the way it is – without color enhancements. Do you think anybody will want to put it in their mouth if it looks like Ronnie and tastes like Snooki?

8. Trimming a Thorny Rosebush

Mother Nature has a unique way of protecting its pride and joys, and in this case it's with sharp barbs protruding from a beautiful flower. Trust this: You do not want to know what it feels like to be on the business end of those buds. While we're at it, let's keep our clothes on for all outdoor activities that require a set of shears.

9. Saying Hello to the Neighborhood Kids

It was hard enough getting your neighbors on board with the whole homosexual thing, man – you do not want to come across as a pervert pedophile, too; that sends the totally wrong message while crossing the wrong lines, and straight people can't handle that. You know what? Just ignore the neighborhood kids all together, OK? At least until that strapping lad next door turns 18.

10. Swimming in an Unfamiliar River

You know that urban legend about the parasitic Amazonian fish that swims into your urethra and wreaks havoc? Yeah, that's called a candiru, and it's very much a real thing. Though there's controversy surrounding how much damage the fish's spikes do when it's inside you (uh huh!), the fact that it has spikes should deter you from ever stepping foot in the Amazon River. Or any body of water, for that matter. You know your free-floating penis probably looks like food to lots of aquatic animals, right?

SUMMER TUNEUP

Coach Marc's Shape-Up Tips

Coach Marc Montemerlo is best known as the out fitness expert on Dr. Drew's daytime television show Lifetchangers. But before joining the program, he was a celebrity trainer, shaping the bodies and minds of stars like Reese Witherspoon, Chris O'Donnell, and Marcia Cross. Coach Marc answers some of our reader questions.

By Michael Nelson

Dear Coach Marc,

Summer's coming and I know I need to get off my blackberry and hit the gym but I'm busier than ever and just don't have the time. Any suggestions?

"I just don't have the time..." I hear this time and time again. One of the most important things to do is to schedule workouts into your day like any other appointment. There will always be another important meeting or event – make fitness a priority. Plan shorter and harder workouts that will get you in and out of the gym in no time. You might also try attending a boot camp or an indoor cycling class to create momentum.

Dear Coach Marc,

I was told that I do push-ups incorrectly; that my hands are too close together and that I'm putting too much stress on my elbows. Is there really a wrong way to do push-ups?

One of the most important things to remember when executing a push up is posture and alignment. The tailbone must be slightly tucked under to activate the lower abdominals and support the lower back and shoulders down and away from your ears. If you cannot hold a good starting position, drop to your knees to make it easier. When lowering your chest to the floor maintain a neutral spine and keep your core engaged. If you bring the hands closer together, you will focus more on the triceps and front of your shoulders; the wider the position the more chest you will recruit. Play with the different positions to get optimal results.

Dear Coach Marc,

I lift weights a lot but I seem to have hit a plateau with my results. What can I do to get stronger and bigger?

Strength is not related to size. The reason we hit training plateaus is because we have been doing the same training over and over. We need to shock our bodies to get results. If it is size you are looking for, consider your eating plan. Are you getting enough calories to support growth? Also, are you getting enough rest? As far as your training, are you lifting heavy weights, focusing on large muscle groups, and isolating muscle?

Dear Coach Marc,

I want to lose weight. Is cardio enough or do I need to lift weights too?

Losing weight not only requires cardio and weight training, you need a good eating plan too. Cardio strengthens your heart muscle, speeds up your metabolism and burns fat. Weight training protects bone and muscle mass. It makes you stronger and fitter and develops better body mechanics. It also boosts energy levels and improves your mood. And really, who doesn't want a tighter, harder body?

What am I suppose to do with the giant inflatable balls I see at the gym?

They are stability balls. There are two types, a weighted ball called the Ballast and the regular un-weighted ball. The perfect ab crunch can be done using a stability ball because it allows you to work in extension in a safe range, recruiting more abdominals. You can also use the ball as a bench to do chest presses on and even up against a wall to help you in assisted squats. You can use it for athletic drills in a standing position doing lateral chops, figure eights and even explosive jumps holding it. The variations are endless, just get onto a ball and have fun with it.

Q HOROSCOPES

By Rev. Bill Morin - for a private consultation. call 702.449.4576

Gemini

(May 21-June 21)

You slowly work your way towards and through various financial victories. Remember what you've learned (like not to be a spendthrift). Lunar aspects on the 3rd make you quite popular on the job. Take advantage of this.

Cancer

(June 22-July 22)

Progress in most areas shall be slow & steady this month. Plus, you'll need to "play" by all the rules. Control that temper at all costs between the 2nd & 4th. Take from the 8th to the 10th for a much needed getaway.

Leo

(July 23-August 22)

Avoid taking sides in a dispute involving friends, or they'll be ex-friends. A 2nd income source will really help by providing extra "mad money"...though saving some would be wise. The month ends with a "legal victory".

Virgo

(August 23-September 22)

Patience is a virtue you're still trying to master. It helps to count to 10 before speaking out. Lower back issues will greatly ease up. Real estate deals figure prominently after the 16th. Seek expert advice.

Libra

(September 22-October 22)

Plans for that Winter relocation should begin on the 3rd. However, announcing these plans too soon could cause problems. A "rift" that's gone on too long needs to be settled. Extend an "olive branch", Ok?

Scorpio

(October 23-November 21)

Changing careers is a bit scary, but it beats being in a frustrating job. It's time to "go for it". Pick the highest mountain/loftiest goal. Don't let anyone talk you out of it. Major rewards await you.

Sagittarius

(November 22-December 21)

June looks like "all systems go" for you, especially in matters of career and finance. There's even a romantic interest heading over the horizon. It's been awhile, but we say go for it!

Capricorn

(December 22-January 19)

Major life decisions should be clear cut and confusion-free. You sure can command an audience's attention. Put this to good use while seeking out support for pet projects. The 22nd looks super lucky.

Aquarius

(January 20-February 18)

Your energy levels may run hot & cold all month long. So don't try to "run on empty" or it could cost you dearly. The 15th-17th look best for any games of chance. Decline an invite for the 26th.

Pisces

(February 19-March 19)

Most of June finds you on-the-go and in great spirits. It's just the 1st-4th you'll need to watch out for. A "fair weather" friend could show their true/harsh colors. Trust your instincts totally.

Aries

(March 20-April 19)

Property you've had listed finally sells. So let the celebration begin. Go ahead and splurge. You've earned it. But don't lend any cash to an undependable sibling. It'll just be money lost.

Taurus

(April 20-May 20)

Momentum is with you all month long and your "charm factor" will be simply off the charts. Start planning that Fall overseas getaway. You'll get some splendid deals. Be sure to take a fun person!

"... Ernie's react(ion) to the audience is always changing because every audience reacts differently, each time it's like meeting new friends, and Ernie is genuinely excited about sharing the history of Vegas..."

- Eric Jordan Young talking about his role in Vegas! The Show.

ARTIST PROFILE:

ERIC JORDAN YOUNG

Vegas! The Show

Where History Comes to Life

By: Jill Roth

"Part of show business is magic. You don't know how it happens."

- Sammy Davis Jr.

Travelers from across the globe flock to the Las Vegas Strip in search of some of the best entertainment on earth, and as the former Rat Packer stated so eloquently, a little Magic.

History teaches us that Las Vegas is synonymous with decadence and dreams-where the poor can become rich, starving artists turn into headliners and where drive-thrus are not just for a post party nosh but for exchanging vows of matrimony. Now added to the list is something no other city has: time travel.

Vegas! The Show at Saxe Theater inside the Miracle Mile Shops - Planet Hollywood is taking audiences on a neon-swaddled ride back in time to see how the Las Vegas of old paved way for the Vegas we all know and love.

Legendary stage gods- Sinatra, Presley and Jones, have now come back to life through an assembled cast featuring ethereal showgirls and debonair male dancers. Sets and costumes adorned of astounding detail and vibrancy are just the beginning. The otherworldly principal vocalists, variety acts and live band, accompanied by jaw-dropping choreography all add to the unparalleled camp and gigantic heart that is the first and only show in Las Vegas about ,well, Vegas!

Patrons are ushered into the Saxe Theater through the brightly colored main lobby, up flights of spiraling steps and into the showroom. It's a glamorous and yet friendly environment where the audience is allowed to bring their 20 pound margarita light-up glasses and wild laughter with them into the seating area- until the sparkling curtain goes up. And that's where it happens --you become transported.

Breaking the silence is the deep and charismatic voice of Broadway and television star Eric Jordan Young, standing solo on stage in the Neon Graveyard, reminiscent of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol". - Like the Ghost of Vegas Past as narrator and bone yard caretaker, the character Ernie is not just the opening act to the show -but an experience.

"I created Ernie to be emotionally available and present for the audience in the very first moment of the show," says Young. "Many of the characters I've done in the past don't speak directly to the audience... the introduction is real and my character of Ernie definite, but the way he reacts to the audience is always changing because every audience reacts differently, each time it's like meeting new friends, and Ernie is genuinely excited about sharing the history of Vegas, much like myself who also loves sharing experiences and being a part of history."

In Las Vegas there is no such thing as 'regulars' when it comes to show audiences. Having performed on stages throughout the country, Young feels that Vegas audiences are unpredictable, making them one of the best audiences for live performances.

"I love Vegas audiences...you never know what you're going to get. We have people from all over the world visiting Vegas! The Show," explains Young. "It's a rush for performers like myself to try and win people over who may not have seen the show before, or those who have never seen a show in their life... not knowing what the energy will be makes the experience tangible and visceral every night; it fits the Vegas model because unlike Broadway, people come without any expectations and are gambling on the show which makes it alluring and fun!"

From sexy group numbers like the Tom Jones classic, "What's New Pussycat?" to the unbelievable rendition of the King's "You're the Devil in Disguise", Tina's "Proud Mary" and the tear-inducing "Rocketman" by Elton John sung by fellow cast mates, Young selects a song that is moving for an actor on a very personal level.

"I love "Once in a Lifetime" by Sammy Davis Jr.- the words are so meaningful," says the performer. "It's about living in the moment and having hope for the future. Sammy Davis Jr. worked hard to open doors to celebrate human equality, and in this moment I get to celebrate him and every performer who shares a passion for entertaining."

The Las Vegas Strip harbors shows that are impressive and alluring to tourists from every place on Earth, but none have more appeal for Vegas's own then "VTS", and that makes it not just entertainment but a history lesson on the place we call home.

"I hope that the locals realize that the show is for them. Las Vegas should be proud when they see the riches this town offered," says Young.

"Show producer David Saxe is a local; born and raised. He worked hard to make sure locals were represented in this show ... Vegas is the entertainment capital of the world, and this show celebrates everything that Vegas is about. The audience is why I do what I do, one song at a time, one breath at a time I can have as much fun as the people out there in the dark. Without them- I am nothing."

A Word From Lea

Twenty-five years after its founding, Golden Rainbow continues to fight against HIV/AIDS on a daily basis. One of the longest running AIDS service organizations in Nevada, this year Golden Rainbow celebrates 25 years of service to people living with HIV/AIDS. The agency has made it through one of the worst economic climates this country has seen since the Great Depression, which was no easy feat to conquer. With over 9,000 people living with the disease here in Clark County, our services to this already fragile population are crucial now more than ever.

I would be remiss if I didn't acknowledge that the talent behind the scenes is as equally important as the talent you see on the stage at Ribbon of Life.

You could say we are a small agency, only ever having two paid employees for 25 years, but that's the only small aspect about us. The agency itself provides direct financial assistance to more than 600 men, women and children every year while also providing permanent housing to men, women and children with its eight two-bedroom apartments, three-bedroom house and two-bedroom townhouse. I strongly believe in the agency's community-based approach, which has always been an important aspect of this organization. I think that is something to be valued.

Golden Rainbow was created because an entertainer battling AIDS was forced to live and die in his brother's garage. Fellow entertainers, by doing what they do best, put on their first show to raise money for supportive services. That first show was called Golden Rainbow and eventually renamed as Ribbon of Life. The agency's largest source of revenue and main fundraiser, Ribbon of Life, also celebrates its 26th anniversary this year at The Smith Center on June 24th, 2012 at 1 p.m. The show is produced by hundreds of Las Vegas' best entertainers each year, all of whom are volunteering their time and talents to the cause. This year's show includes performances by Clint Holmes, Reva Rice and the cast of Vegas the Show!, Human Nature, Mo5aic, Broadway in the Hood, Las Vegas Deaf Theatre, Las Vegas City Ballet, RagTag Entertainment, The Las Vegas Tenors, The Las Vegas Men's Chorus, as well as the casts of Jubilee!, Phantom: The Las Vegas Spectacular and Chippendales. 8 News NOW anchor Chris Saldaña will be hosting this year's Ribbon of Life. With such star power, these performers easily make this the best fundraising show on The Strip. Continued support from performers is evidence the agency is deeply rooted in the community with roots stretching all the way down the Las Vegas Strip through every showroom.

I would be remiss if I didn't acknowledge that the talent behind the scenes is as equally important as the talent you see on the stage at Ribbon of Life. I'm talking of course about the agency's Board of Directors. A group of seventeen people make up Golden Rainbow's Board of Directors, all of whom would probably consider Golden Rainbow to be their second job. The time and effort that they put into the agency and its fundraisers is astounding. They are true stars in my eyes. Because of their unwavering commitment, Golden Rainbow continues to be able to serve those in need.

I encourage everyone in the community to come out and support the 26th anniversary of Ribbon of Life on June 24, 2012 at The Smith Center. Tickets starts at just $38 and can be purchased by calling The Smith Center box office at (702)749-2000 or by visiting goldenrainbow.org or thesmithcenter.com. It's only with the help and support of our community that we can continue to make a difference every day in the lives of others. ■
